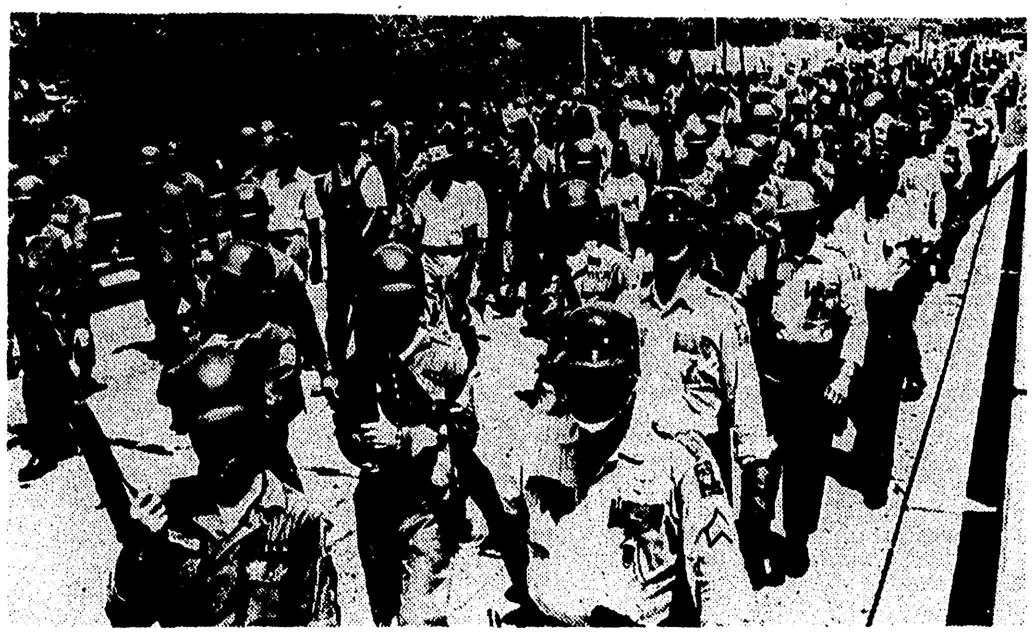
LBJ Says U.S. Drubs Reds; Challenges Critics Of Policy



HUNDREDS OF LOUISIANA National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets and state troopers walk alongside some 90 civil rights marchers making their way through Ku Klux Klan territory at Denham Springs, La. The National Guard was called out to protect the marchers who are enroute to Baton Rouge following several attacks on the group by whites earlier in the week. (AP Wirephoto)

Guard Ordered To 'Shoot Quick'

McKeithen Warns Of Swift Action For Troublemakers

By JACK OWENS

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The National Guard will be ordered to "shoot quick" and people will be killed if necessary to stop racial rioting and looting in Louisiana, Gov. John McKeithen said Friday night.

The governor told a state-television audience the National Guard will be able to stop violence immediately if any erupts following a Ku Klux Klan parade and a scheduled speech by Negro militant H. Rap Brown to a civil rights rally at the state capitol Sunday.

CRYSTAL CLEAR

"I hope I make myself completely clear," said McKeithen. "When they start looting, pilfering and burning people's homes, there will be a few people killed real quick. Then the riot will be over." The governor said as many as 1,000 National Guardsmen will be summoned to Baton Rouge for rallies planned by Negro groups and the Klan tonight and Sunday.

McKeithen said the guard would not be there merely for show.

"I think one of the greatest mistakes made in Detroit was putting those poor National Guardsmen out there at parade rest," McKeithen said.

He referred to orders given during the Detroit rioting which first required the troops to stand at parade rest when trouble began.

"That is one of the troubles in this nation today," he said. "People have said, 'Well, that might cause us to have some trouble.'

"It's got to stop somewhere. And I say, let us stop it in Louisiana in front of the state capitol."

The governor, talking at a televised news conference after his speech, said he will not tolerate remarks meant to incite rioting, such as have been attributed in other states to Brown, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

"He has no right to preach treason or sedition," McKeithen said of Brown. "If he does, we will arrest him immediately."

McKeithen said it wasn't necessary to issue live ammuniton to the guardsmen today.

"We had 175 state policemen with tommy guns and everything else," he said.

"It was one of my orders. this wasn't a shooting thing today. We had citizens there today who wanted to fist fight each other."

McKeithen said the civil rights march was "silly, ridiculous and absurd" and emphasized he would refuse to accept the Negroes list of grievances unless presented through normal channels.

As for Sunday, McKeithen said, "They (the guardsmen) will be supplied with live ammunition if we have a riot, or looting or burning, and will be instructed to shoot, quick.

"Perhaps," he added, "it will be a situation where we won't need live ammunition. I don't think there will be a riot here at all. Our people here are 100 per cent against a riot."

Asked about reports that some Klansmen from Georgia might be involved in the situation, McKeithen grinned and replied:

"If we've got some ragtail group in here from someplace in Georgia trying to cause us trouble, it will be our pleasure to jail them and somebody from Georgia will have to come get them out. We might put them in the same cell with Rap Brown and they'll all have a good time."

Negro Marchers, Guards Come Under Hail Of Eggs

DENHAM SPRINGS, La. (AP) — Negro civil rights marchers, enclosed by a protective wall of National Guardsmen and state police, came under a hail of eggs as they passed through here Friday.

"I'm going to give them something they can eat," cried one white youth.

Hundreds of eggs splashed the column. Firecrackers popped. At one point, a fight involving white and Negro spectators was quickly broken up. Several men were arrested and hustled away.

RING OF IRON

The state put a ring of iron around the march as it passed through Ku Klux Klan country that was buzzing like an angry hornets nest.

The 90 marching Negroes, nearly all from Bogalusa, La., remained sandwiched between walls of military and police might as they walked along U.S. 190, headed for Baton Rouge—15 miles away.

Helicopters, one bearing Gov. John J. McKeithen, clattered in the sunny skies above the strange procession. Most stores along the way in Denham Springs, a town of about 2,500, shut down as the column approached. Clusters of whites jeered as it passed. Confederate flags fluttered.

"That place would have been a slaughter pen had the governor not called out the National Guard," said Negro leader A. Z. Young. Young stopped the march for the day at the Baton Rouge city limits. The Negroes returned to Bogalusa in an old school bus and a number of cars. They resume the march at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The hot, sunburned infantrymen, who brought provisions for a three-day operation, moved on to a Baton Rouge armery. In a special statewide telecast about an hour later, Gov. McKeithen called the march "silly, ridiculous and absurd," but emphasized that the march was legal and therefore due protection.

"The same force that protected them will be used to arrest them if and when they violate the law," he added.

"The real test is coming Sunday," said McKeithen, referring to coming weekend rallies in Baton Rouge by both the civil rights forces and the Klan. There may be as many as 1,000 additional Guardsmen in the city during that time, he added.

"We will use every force necessary to enforce law, including killing people," said McKeithen. "We hope that won't be necessary."

Traffic on the highway, a major artery from Baton Rouge to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, was detoured around the march.

The Negroes, marching to the capital to dramatize claims of job discrimination in Bogalusa, trudged two abreast along the highway center line.

Notes Machinery To Undo Congress' Joint Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP) President Johnson said Friday the Communists are "taking a drubbing" in Vietnam, and declared that if Congress wants to disavow his war policies, the machinery is at hand.

In effect, the President challenged his congressional critics to undo if they can the joint resolution of Aug. 7, 1964, approving and supporting all necessary steps to prevent further aggression.

At a White House news conference dominated by talk of the Asian war, Johnson also:

—Said he believes Communist China knows that the United States does not seek to widen the conflict, despite U. S. bombing missions within 10 miles of her border.

—Reported that Communists ground forces in South Vietnam, apparently because of the losses they have suffered, seem less anxious to engage American troops.

—Defended the conduct of the Presidential election campaign in South Vietnam. He said the country is making remarkable progress toward representative government.

—Insisted that the war is no stalemate. Johnson said the Communists are being drubbed, and would like Americans to believe there is stalemate. He named a long list of generals who have been to the war zone, and said: "All these men think that the stalemate charge is nothing more than propaganda."

POLICY UNCHANGED

Johnson summed up near the outset the theme of his news conference, carried live on radio and television. "So far as this government is concerned, our policy has not changed," he said.

Johnson devoted more time to the question of his authority to act in Vietnam than to any other single item. He insisted the steps he has taken are well within the boundaries of his constitutional authority as commander in chief, and pointed as well to the three-year-old resolution.

That position has been challenged by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and other Senate critics of the Vietnam war.

The joint resolution was adopted with only two dissenting votes amid naval warfare in the Gulf of Tonkin. Its key clause: "The Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander in chief,, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

"I believe that every Congressman there and most of the senators there knew what the resolution said," Johnson said. He said it expressed congressional willingness to go along with the President in doing whatever was necessary to deter aggression.

Johnson took the position that the joint resolution was desirable, but not essential "to do what we did and what we were doing."

"We are trying to provide a maximum deterrent with a minimum loss," the President said.

And he pointed out that the resolution itself provides that it may be terminated by concurrent resolution, which would not require a presidential signature.

Thus, Johnson said, its repeal would be veto-proof.

"The machinery is there any time Congress decides to withdraw its views on the matter," the President said.

"I don't think we are acting beyond our constitutional rights," he said. But Johnson said he felt the resolution was desirable because "we thought we were going to stay there the whole round.

"If we expected them to be there on the takeoff, we wanted them to be there on the landing," Johnson said of congress.

"And the remedy is there if we have acted unwisely or improperly," he continued.

"It's going to get tougher as it gets along. The longer the fighting lasts the more sacrifices it's going to require in men and material."

Mice Devastate Slavic Fields

SARAJEVO, Yugoslavia UPI — An army of hungry field mice devastated new areas of Bosnian farmland Friday and was blamed for an outbreak of disease that took one life.

In some areas, peasants were reduced to eating boiled hay because all their crops were destroyed and emergency food supplies had not yet reached them.

Millions of the tiny mice have invaded wide areas of central Yugoslavia in the past 10 days and government officials have said they are helpless to fight against them.

The officials fear that attempts to poison them would endanger their wildlife and domestic animals.

B52s Make Air Strikes For 5th Day

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers raided a big Communist military buildup area Saturday in the fifth consecutive day of strikes by the eight-engine Stratofortresses on both sides of the demilitarized zone.

Fighter-bombers, meanwhile, hammered a power plant, railroad sidings, bridges, truck convoys, storage areas and a boat repair yard in raids Friday in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam.

SMALL SKIRMISHES

Ground fighting was marked by small skirmishes and U.S. Marines, paratroopers and infantrymen reported killing a total of 43 Communist troops in four clashes. The American casualties were two dead and 17 wounded.

The pre-dawn raid Saturday by the B52s, each of which can carry 30 tons of bombs, was on Communist supply storage sites and a truck park that are part of a major North Vietnamese fixed military base in the A Shau Valley in the northwestern corner of South Vietnam.

It was the third raid since Wednesday night on the A Shau Valley. Alternately, since Tuesday, the B52 bombers have been making daily strikes on Communist targets and infiltration routes inside the six-mile wide demilitarized zone, artillery and antiaircraft positions just inside North Vietnam and on the A Shau Valley. More than 50 previous raids by the B52 bombers and hundreds of strikes by tactical fighter-bombers have failed to destroy the camouflaged base camps east and west of the A Shau Valley floor or to permanently knock out a 25-mile long road that is open to heavy traffic.

North Vietnamese labor battalions and bulldozers began last February to push the road into South Vietnam linking the base to the Communists' road network in Laos.

The Communists road network in Laos is a key infiltration route from North Vietnam into the south and is commonly called the Ho Chi Minh Trail after the North Vietnamese president.

The daily strikes seem aimed at attempting to thwart any massive buildup by the Communists for another sustained drive on U.S. Marine positions just below the DMZ and around the northernmost provinces of Quang Tri and Thua Thien. The A Shau Valley is in Thua Thien Province.

In the strikes over North Vietnam Friday, U.S. Navy carrier-based pilots reported a direct hit on the boiler house and a storage building during an attack on the Ben Thuy thermal power plant two miles south-southeast of Vinh.

Other Navy pilots from the carriers Constellation and Oriskany reported damaging three buildings at the Xa Doai boat repair yard 10 miles north-northwest of Vinh.

Tough, Independent Boy Shows Up At Last Minute

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — A tough and independent 10 year - old boy said from a hospital bed Friday he felt "pretty good" after being lost for 10 days in the snow-spotted High Sierra with no nourishment except water from a mountain stream.

"I wasn't scared at all," Gary Fraser, of Santa Monica, Calif., said.

He said he became lost because "I tried to climb my favorite mountain" at the 10,000 foot level of the Sierra, 75 miles northeast of Fresno.

It was the second time the boy had gone into the Sierra, and the second time he became lost.

This time he vanished Aug. 8, then stumbled into an abandoned search camp Thursday night. His arms were covered with sores from mosquito bites. His thigh was infected from a gash suffered when he tripped on a rock and fell. His survival was "fantastic, miraculous," in the words of Dr. Charles Glass who flew to the rescue camp and accompanied him to a Fresno hospital by helicopter.

He was wearing only light trousers, a T-shirt, a nylon jacket and shoes. All were torn as he wandered in the snowy mountains.

He tried to attract a searching helicopter's attention once, but said he "couldn't yell loud enough."

He saw a few deer but no other animals.

His 17-year-old brother, Alan, said Gary made his first trip into the Sierra back country with the family last year and became lost. Rangers found him the next day.

When Dr. Glass flew into the camp Friday near daybreak, he said his patient appeared to be confused and was "terribly weak." The boy had been without food during the time he was lost.

The week-long search was abandoned Thursday when only a few traces of the boy were found in the rugged area above the timberline.

Perry Coleman Leaves Race

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Perry Coleman Friday withdrew from the governor's race, and at the same time assailed another gubernatorial candidate, Rep. John Rarick, D-La.

Coleman, a Grant Parish oilman from Pollock, said Rarick was "hitchhiking a political ride on racial strife and violence."

His prepared statement said, it sounded like "a good political deal to me on the surface" until "I learned that Rarick had made a deal with Black Power."

Shady Wall Candidate For House

Former state representative Shady Wall of West Monroe announced Friday his candidacy for one of the three house seats from Ouachita Parish.

Wall will be a candidate in the November 4 Democratic primary.

A graduate of the Ouachita Parish School System, Wall attended Northeast State College and Louisiana State University. He is a veteran of World War II, serving for 18 months in Europe. During this time he saw action in the Battle of the Bulge near the end of the hostilities in Europe.

Now in the real estate-mortgage loan business, Wall served in the legislature for two terms from 1948 until 1956.

During this time he guided and handled on the floor of the House the bill which made the former two-year Northeast Center into the current four-year college.

While serving as vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Wall also handled a bill which provided retirement for some of the teachers at Northeast College, who formerly had been under the Louisiana State University retirement system. When the college changed into a four-year some of these teachers had lost their retirement benefits.

He also was on the committee which put into effect the minimum salary and increased the retirement benefits of all teachers.

Wall introduced the bill in the Legislature which increased the salary schedule for state policemen [illegible], an across-the-board raise for the troopers.

He also served as vice chairman of the Judiciary A Committee and the Committee for Institutional Reforms which resulted in the improvement of the penal and mental institutions of the state. He was also chairman of the conservation committee and aided in the increase of the minimum price of gas at the well heads.

Wall is a member of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe and has been active in civic and community projects.

He is married to the former Lallage Feazel.

His statement follows:

"I am a candidate for one of the three State Representative positions from Ouachita Parish because I want to be of service to the people of West Monroe, Calhoun, Sterlington, Fairbanks, Swartz, Bosco, Monroe and all of Ouachita Parish.

"I feel that at this present time the opportunity to serve in the Legislature puts me in a position to be of particular service.

"Let me say that I shall be a 'dependent' candidate — dependent upon each individual voter for your support and vote.

"I feel that my formal education and my experience in the Legislature qualifies me to perform this service for the people of Ouachita Parish and I have the time and am in a position to fulfill my desire to be of more service than before.

"I have in the past and shall continue to support the state reservations and game management programs thus aiding our wildlife programs in providing more hunting and fishing facilities for all of the people.

"I, too, will support the anti-pollution programs.

"On the insurance issue, driver education courses should be taken into consideration when insurance rates are made for our young people. I shall work to have a study of the insurance problems in our state.

"The parents of young people are charged a prohibitive rate on insurance. I feel that these young people who have completed the driver education courses in our high schools should not be penalized with prohibitive rates unless they have violations. This will be a further incentive for the young people to be more careful drivers.

"Northeast Louisiana State College has done a lot for this area and particularly Ouachita Parish. I worked in the Legislature before to further this college and shall continue to support it in all ways possible. The expansion and improvement of the college will fulfill the needs of the young people of our area.

"I guided the measure through the House and sponsored the bill on the House floor to make Northeast State College a four-year institution.

"When elected, I shall cooperate in every way with the local political subdivisions in the parish. I pledge to work closely with the school boards, police juries, municipal governments and the drainage districts.

"I sincerely thank the people who have given me encouragement to enter this race and depend on them to help continue the job ahead. I ask them and all others to call and write me on any measures they feel are for the betterment of Ouachita Parish.

"I am asking for the support and vote of every voter in Ouachita Parish remembering that I am a 'dependent' candidate dependent upon each individual voter for your support and vote."

Construction Of Lock, Dam Symbolically Opened In Area

By BOB CARROLL
State Editor

JONESVILLE — Dignitaries Friday broke ground in the rain as construction of the Jonesville lock and dam on the Black River was symbolically opened.

Nearly 200 persons had turned out for the ceremonies at the lock and dam site, seven miles south of here. But within 10 minutes after the program opened a deluge sent everyone scurrying for cover. And 15 minutes later, when the rain slackened, less than half the spectators remained.

Speakers, including Col. Felix R. Garrett, U.S. Army District Engineer, Vicksburg (Miss.) District, Congressman Speedy O. Long and Congressman Otto E. Passman, casting wary glances at the sky, cut their speeches short.

The ground breaking ceremonies were to open construction of the lock and dam on the Black River as a part of the project underway on the Ouachita and Black rivers through South Arkansas and Northeast Louisiana to build a nine-foot navigational channel.

Turning the spades of earth in a pelting rain were Jonesville Mayor G. D. Babin, Paul Sullins, president of the Ouachita River Valley Association; Col. Garrett; R. Fred Petty, president of the Tensas Basin Levee Board; Wedon T. Smith, Catahoula Parish member of the Levee Board; C. H. Leavell, representing C. H. Leavell and Co., El Paso, Tex., firm doing the construction; and Congressman Otto E. Passman.

Col. Garrett, in his brief speech, gave a history of the nine-foot channel project, pointing out that the channel will be between Camden, Ark., and Jonesville.

The system will include four locks and dams, including ones at Calion, Ark., Felsenthal, Ark., Columbia and Jonesville. He said that the facilities at Columbia are about 80 per cent complete at this time.

Upon completion of the $80 million project on the river expected by 1975, the six existing ones will be destroyed.

The plan at Jonesville calls for the structure to be built on land in a bendway on the Black River. After construction is complete, a channel will be dredged to divert the Black River through the new structure and an earth closure will be constructed in the old channel forming a lake.

Plans call for the project to create 30 additional feet of water to be available from Jonesville to the present dam at Harrisonburg. From the Harrisonburg Dam to the new dam at Columbia, there will be 12 feet more water than the present pool stage. From Columbia to the old dam in south Monroe there will be 18 feet more water, and from the Monroe dam to Sterlington there will be seven feet more water.

The water level from Sterlington to Felsenthal will be increased by approximately one foot, but in this area the channel will be dredged to provide a minimum of nine feet. The new dam at Felsenthal will increase the water level to Calion by three and one-half feet and from Calion to Camden by one and one-half feet.

Congressman Long called the Ouachita-Black rivers project "another of the milestones in the development of the state and the great progress that the state is making today."

Long praised Passman, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, saying that Passman "worked long and hard" to get this project.

Long said that a "dream such as this" for the Red River has not been recognized yet. He bitterly attacked foreign aid, and said that all the money used to rebuild Europe after two world wars could have been put to better use.

"We could have taken the billions spent in countries who turn their backs on us now ... and have had the Red River and others completed," the congressman said.

He noted that he was opposed to a tax increase being sought by the Johnson administration, and the "rotten poverty program," adding that he wouldn't be surprised if H. Rap Brown, militant Negro leader, "received poverty aid."

Passman, also cutting short his prepared speech with facts and figures on the river project, noted that "much progress had been made in flood control and harbor facilities across the nation and area."

Sen. Russell Long and Gov. John McKeithen were scheduled to take part in the ceremonies, but it was explained that Sen. Long was in a session of the U.S. Senate, and the situation in Baton Rouge, where a group of Negroes are enroute on a march, prevented the governor from attending the ceremonies.

The candidate, of 2735 Point Dr., is completing his second term in the Senate. Adcock is chairman of the powerful Legislative Budget Committee that handles all state spending.

He also is chairman of the Senate Judiciary "C" Committee which handles all McKeithen Administration measures in the Senate, heads up the Louisiana Office Building Corporation and is presently serving as a non-paid special assistant to the governor in a trouble-shooting role.

The 50 - year - old veteran of World War II is married to the former Frances Aycock of Rayville and they are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Paul Melton of Baton Rouge.

The Adcocks are members of the Parkview Baptist Church of Monroe.

Adcock entered the U.S. Army as a second lieutenant and emerged as a major. A native of Richland Parish, he was raised on a small farm and worked his way through Louisiana State University, from which he obtained a degree in business administration in 1939.

Among his civic activities, Adcock is a former president of the Twin Cities Y.M.C.A. and was active in the successful effort to build that organization's current facilities on Glenmar Avenue in Monroe. He has worked in several United Givers' Fund campaigns.

"This is to announce my candidacy for re-election to the Louisiana Senate from Ouachita, Morehouse, West Carroll and East Carroll Parishes. I am completing my second term in the State Senate and I have always attempted to represent the people with fairness and honesty in all matters, letting my position be known at all times on all subjects to the people I represented. Politics is not a field for men without courage and I do not believe even my severest critic can say that I am a man without backbone.

"As a youngster growing up on a farm in Richland Parish I learned at an early age that to succeed in life a man must work for his goals, stand up for his principles, and battle for his accomplishments. I humbly believe that my record in both private and public life bespeaks that basic philosophy of mine.

"For the past almost four years we have seen Louisiana come from last in almost everything to a place of leadership in this great nation of ours, leading the entire South in industrial development while enforcing improvement after improvement at home. This was done by a new team of Louisianans captained by the very able John J. McKeithen and assisted by my good friend, Taddy Aycock. It has been my pleasure to have been close to both of these men for many years. Governor McKeithen saw fit to make me his top Senate floor leader, chairman of the powerful Legislative Budget Committee that handles all state spending, and many other key capacities that placed me in a position of top leadership in the McKeithen Administration. Now that the McKeithen-Aycock team is asking to be returned to office, I, too, would like the opportunity to remain on the new team of Louisianans for the next four years.

"From my position of leadership in the Senate and in fiscal matters I believe that I have played a large part in the growth and development of Northeast Louisiana State College. This college will need even more assistance in the next four years as its phenomenal growth continues. I propose to seek university status for Northeast and with a little push from home this job can be accomplished.

"I also plan to work for the establishment of a law school here. There are four law schools in south Louisiana, but none in north Louisiana. Some of the state's finest attorneys hail from our home area and I believe more young people would enter the study of law if facilities were more readily available. Northeast Louisiana State College is one of our outstanding assets, both from an educational and business viewpoint.

"One of my major goals will be the adoption of a ten-step pay plan for all our civil service employes. We must and will continue to improve the pay of these loyal state employes. I will continue to work for improved salaries in our local school board so that our excellent teachers will not be tempted to leave for better positions in south Louisiana. This is a most serious mission and must be accomplished.

"Another major problem facing people today is the rising cost of insurance. Present rates are a burden for working people and small businesses. I pledge a corrective legislative program to bring us relief.

"It is my firm belief that for many years and through too many state administrations prior to the McKeithen Administration, north Louisiana has not received its just share of roads, educational funds, industrial development and new jobs. I pledge to continue my efforts in our "catch up" program for north Louisiana. I am particularly interested and will work toward securing industry for our area and I believe that through my associations in business and government I can be of great help.

"In conclusion, the continuing of our American ideals that have made this country great are of utmost importance to us today. I, too, do not like some of the things that are going on in our country today, especially our larger cities. Thank God Louisiana has escaped this wrath and I submit that Gov. John McKeithen and the new team in Louisiana is largely responsible for this. In the weeks ahead I will see and talk with as many people as possible. My campaign will be active. I will take it to the people. Your vote, support and consideration will be appreciated. Vote for Adcock and one other.

West Monroe UHF Channel On Air Today

Ultra high frequency telecasting comes to the Twin Cities area today when KUZN-TV, Channel 39 in West Monroe, begins its first day of regular broadcasting, according to Charles Morgan, general manager of the station.

Construction of the station, which is owned by Howard Griffith, was begun in April 1966, and includes complete broadcasting studios located at 701 Parkwood Dr. and a 700-foot tower.

The station, which Morgan says will "offer more local programming than has ever been offered before in this area," will be on the air week days from 2 p.m. until 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday telecasting will be from 1 p.m. until midnight, Morgan said.

"Most people with sets constructed after 1964 are equipped to receive us," said Morgan, "However some sets may require a uhf antenna, which is available at most television service departments and repair stores."

Included in the broadcasting format will be movies, many of which will have their television debut on KUZN - TV, news, weather and local programming.

Local programs will feature interviews, local talent and local news and sports, Morgan said.

With the expected arrival of new equipment, KUZN will broadcast in color. In addition, the new building, which houses the TV facilites and an AM radio station, will soon be the headquarters of an FM radio station.

The staff of the new television station will be filled by key personnel from the radio operation. Bob Tucker will be news director, Don Terry will act as sports director and Mike Scott will be special events director. David Greer will be chief engineer for KUZN-TV.

A grand opening is planned for the new facility.

The special election is necessary to fill the vacancy created by the death of Roland Nix.

The position will begin August 31.

As a member of the Nursing Education Department faculty, Dr. Gallagher's main duties will deal with collegiate programs in nursing, including a variety of studies of education in other states.

She will also devote time to a second professional volume to follow her book, "Educational Administration in Nursing," a Macmillan Co. publication, which has been translated into Spanish.

Marshall's Attitude Hit

Although Thurgood Marshall, only Negro ever appointed to the United States Supreme Court, has some official qualifications which would appear to make him at least as satisfactory as a good many of the other members of the court, Senator Strom Thurmond, R., S.C., has cast serious doubt on whether these apparent qualifications are genuine. He also was displeased with Marshall's attitude when being questioned by Senators in connection with his appointment.

Before being appointed to the highest court in the land, Marshall had served as United States solicitor general, a position which enabled him to represent the government in many trials, and as a jurist on a United States appellate court. These positions would seem to attest to his ability as an attorney and as a judge. Nevertheless, his appointments to these positions may also have been based on political consideration, rather than on real qualification.

In a statement on Marshall's appointment and his appearance before a Senate committee, Senator Thurmond said in part:

"Lyndon Johnson has nominated Thurgood Marshall to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Most recent nominations to the Supreme Court have been characterized by political or philosophical considerations, rather than the legal ability of the appointee. I have felt duty bound to oppose nominations of this type, and have never hesitated to vote against such appointees.

"The nomination of Thurgood Marshall continues this tendency, but with an odd twist. During the hearings on his nomination, Marshall demonstrated that, despite extensive experience, he still knew little law on the most important issues which the Supreme Court faces almost daily. In addition, he avoided disclosing his views on many issues by asserting that it would be wrong for him to comment upon any matter that might yet come before the court. He gave the impression that his views on constitutional law were no business of the committee convened to inquire into his fitness for one of the most important posts in the land."

At the committee hearing on Marshall, some Senators displayed open disgust after vainly pleading for some clue, some straight-forward, honest statement about the appointee's legal philosophy.

Since Marchall had fled furtively from divulging his own personal legal principles, it seemed only fair for the Senators to give him an opportunity to demonstrate his knowledge of the basic issues in an area in which he has specialized intensively for more than 25 years. The questioning, therefore, turned from present cases to Marshall's own particular field of exploration, the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution. In the minds of many people, Marshall, because of his devotion to the cause of integration and so-called civil rights, is pictured as "Mr. Fourteenth Amendment."

A clear understanding of the Reconstruction amendments is essential to every member of the Supreme Court today. It is true that many legal historians have cast doubt upon the legality of the ratification of the 14th Amendment but there is no doubt at all that distorted interpretations of it have been used as the excuse to turn many of our basic contitutional concepts inside out.

Under the accepted legal doctrine of "contemporaneous interpretation," the intent of the framers of the Constitution is the controlling factor in construing the meaning of the text, as Senator Thurmond pointed out. Before it can be determined what a clause means today, the judge must search out what the clause was intended to mean when it was written. The weight of such evidence must decide. Any other interpretation is an arbitrary, personal amendment to the Constitution of the United States, without approval of Congress or of the states, as the Constitution itself says is necessary if there is to be an amendment.

Senator Thurmond stated that it would seem that any legal authority who had studied the 14th Amendment for 25 years would be able to explain why the Amendment was adopted and what it was intended to do.

"Civil Rights" in 1866 meant only the natural rights of persons and not the specific rights of Negroes against the natural rights of white or other persons. "Civil Rights" then specifically excluded political rights of citizens, such as the right to vote. The men who framed the 14th Amendment complained that it did not cover political rights.

To almost every question of historical fact in this area. Marshall answered, "I don't know." When relevant historical facts and statements were pointed out to him, Marshall said they would not be controlling factors in his interpretation of basic constitutional principles. This attitude, coupled with an ignorance of basic constitutional principles, has given rise to the theory of the so-called "living Constitution."

When Marshall, time after time, replied, "I don't know," to constitutional provisions with which he should have been familiar, he was either displaying an inexcusable ignorance of the Constitution, for a man sitting on the highest court in the land, or was "taking the Fifth Amendment" falsely by saying he did not know when he did know. In either of these cases, he was in a position unbecoming to a member of the Supreme Court.

The theory of the so-called "living Constitution" is a farce. By that, its adherents merely mean they think the Constitution is a instrument which the Supreme Court members can twist and change as they please, without the benefit of a Constitutional Amendment.

Answers given by Marshall seem to indicate he is a member of that school. Apparently he thinks one-ninth of the United States Constitution is a toy with which he can play as he chooses and can use to accomplish his own purposes.

If that is Marshall's thinking, he is not a proper member of the Supreme Court.

One Lifesaver Costly

Wider, safer roads prevent many thousands of automobile accidents and result in the saving of many thousands of lives. Wider roads are more costly but they may be worth the extra expense.

At one time, state highway police in Ouachita and surrounding parishes stated that widening two-lane highways three feet on each side caused a sharp reduction in automobile collisions and other accidents.

A recent news story stated that state governments and taxpayers may find the effects of federal aid for highway construction reduced because of new safety standards recently accepted by the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

These funds, which offset 90 per cent of the cost of new interstate highways and 50 per cent of that of improved primary and secondary roads, may be eaten up by zooming construction costs.

Iowa, for example, is crisscrossed by thousands of miles of farm-to-market secondary roads, as are a great many other states, including Louisiana.

Officials estimate the new standards, which include wider bridges, wider shoulders and more gentle slopes will increase the cost of one Iowa project by 823 per cent, from $42,120 to $371,000, and add millions to the state's highway budget.

A major reason for adoption of new standards is statistics showing that a large percentage of all road fatalities occur on secondary roads. Many believe wider and better roads can do more good than any other one factor in reducing highway deaths and injuries. This may make the increased costs worthwhile.

Johnson Plans Fireside Chats

Hopes To Bolster His Program In Congress

PRESIDENT Johnson is planning to deliver a series of fireside TV-radio chats to the nation.

Scheduled to begin before Labor Day, the broadcasts from the White House will be used to rally public support for the administration's stalled domestic legislative program for the cities and its beleaguered Vietnam war strategy.

The President, taking a page from the political notebook of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, is counting on these personal pep talks to bolster his sagging popularity, now at an all-time low according to the latest national polls.

Details of these and other future political plans of the President were made known this week to Democratic congressional leaders when they appealed to the White House for help to get the administration's legislative program "moving again" in Congress.

In their frank backstage discussions, the House and Senate leaders prodded the President into action by telling him that his program and, in particular, his call for more taxes, will need all the support he can personally muster to pass Congress at this session.

Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., reported that the climate in Congress has, if anything, hardened against Great Society programs in the wake of racial riots. If there is to be action, he warned, it will require personal leadership by the President.

Other Democratic leaders stressed this need, pointing out that Vice President Humphrey, assigned to push the administration's legislative proposals, had temporarily at least, rendered himself useless on Capitol Hill by his public criticism of Congress.

THE POSITIVE APPROACH —Taking his cue from the lawmaker's comments, the President responded:

"My recent Baltimore speech, asking for more stress on the positive things being done in this nation, brought a good public response. I believe if this approach is used in a series of nationally televised talks from the White House that we can rally the great majority of the people behind our programs both at home and abroad."

In response to one caution against such TV talks being construed as "an attack on Congress," the President responded with an appropriate gesture, "I'll just prod Congress a bit. I won't attack you gentlemen. There are enough problems facing me."

President Johnson, who sees himself as an "action President," has been visually stung in recent days by critics who have charged he has not done enough in response to the riots or in Vietnam.

Note: A private study being examined by the President reveals that 94 per cent of homes in the U.S. have one or more television sets. In the key political states of Michigan, Ohio, and New Jersey, the figure is 97 per cent.

REPUBLICAN POLITICS — Visitors report that former President Eisenhower is taking a much more active interest in the selection of next year's Republican candidates than he did three years ago.

Instead of remaining aloof as in 1964, the former President is letting it be known he will endorse one candidate before the GOP national convention delegates convene in Miami a year from now.

While not closing the door to other candidates, Eisenhower at present is boosting former Vice President Nixon and Michigan's Governor Romney.

His callers also are saying Eisenhower believes both California's Governor Ronald Reagan and Illinois' Senator Charles Percy should pass up 1968 — and wait four more years to run.

LEADING CANDIDATES — In discussing Nixon, Eisenhower tells his visitors he feels his former vice president is by far the best qualified of all the potential candidates. But, like other Republican leaders, Eisenhower stresses Nixon must win primaries to prove that he has the necessary vote-getting appeal.

As for Governor Romney, the former President points out he was one of those who encouraged the Michigan governor to go into public life. If he can outclass Nixon in the primaries, Eisehnower indicates Romney would be his choice.

In arguing that Reagan and Percy should wait until 1972, Eisenhower cites their need for more experience on the national level. He told one caller, "Senator Percy is uninformed on foreign policy or he wouldn't be making those naive statements on Vietnam."

Slums Called Partly To Blame In Rioting

THE TIME HAS come for some hard - headed thinking about the recent riots and what may be their aftermath. It is, of course, customary in certain circles to dismiss as hard-hearted those who bring that hard-headed approach. But since the fuzzy thinkers have so far succeeded only in making a bad situation worse, they should withdraw from the field and allow others to take over.

At the same time, the programs advanced in the past by the do-gooders and the bleeding hearts should not be rejected out of hand. The cause of the riots is complex, it is true, but as Washington officials are finding out, that complexity is a compound of many simple factors. Those factions, for example, who argue that there would have been no riots had there been adequate housing are reducing the problem to the absurd.

Nevertheless, living conditions in the slums are one of several contributory causes to the unrest. To deny this is as foolish as to brush aside the involvement of subversive and radical elements in fanning the flames that destroyed a large section of Detroit or led to outbreaks in other cities.

THOSE HARD-HEADED but perceptive legislators on Capitol Hill go a step beyond the simplistic argument. Billions have been spent on housing programs, and those who have opposed them have been roundly denounced by Congressional liberals. The question is: What happened to those billions? Were they wisely spent? Are the programs pushed through by every Administration since the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt doing a job? Very belatedly, the Census Bureau has reluctantly admitted that they aren't. In 1950 there were an estimated 3.5 million "dilapidated" housing units. There are roughly the same number today — perhaps 6,000 less.

The multi - billion urban renewal program has been a colossal failure because those administering it have done more to aggravate low-cost housing projects. The southwest area of Washington is a case in point, and it can be duplicated all around the country. Federal bulldozers were sent in to flatten with indiscriminate zeal a large area of the nation's capital. Good houses and bad were demolished. Today, the city's Southwest is a flourishing area — of luxury apartments and town houses.

THE SLUM DWELLERS were forced out. They moved into other sections of Washington and created new slums with equal dilapidated housing. Good neighborhoods were turned into slums that were far worse than the old ones. If there is bitterness about this, it is readily understood.

When the War on Poverty was declared, with much fanfare, by the Johnson Administration, hopes were raised. But those who administered it refused to take criticism or advice. They plunged into a highly complex problem with only conviction — that money could do it. The result has been, as Congress is finding out in the present hearings before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, that money was wasted and worse.

Instead of giving slum dwellers, both Negro and white, the kind of training that would allow them to compete in the job market, the Office of Economic Opportunity handed out its money to the very people who have a vested interest in making conditions worse so that a "revolutionary climate" will be created in the United States.

Who were the recipients of Federal funds? In case after case, they turned out to be trained members of Students for a Democratic Society, the Student Non-"Violent" Coordinating, Committee, CORE, and other groups. The field workers turned out to be people dedicated not to the rehabilitation of the sorry fringe areas of American society, but those who deliberately set out to exploit the misery of low-income families and individuals.

IN NEWARK, according to officials there, the extreme left organizations, controlled two of the city's eight war-on-poverty projects. One of the trustees of the anti - poverty program in that city has been preaching that "complete chaos will have to prevail in the streets of American cities and blood will have to flow like water before the black man will become an accepted citizen in this country." The Office of Economic Opportunity has done little or nothing to clean house. Instead, it has snarled at those who have publicized its deplorable handling.

The OEO is a slender reed on which to pin hopes for progress. But it might well have contributed something toward maintaining peace in the streets — rather than vice versa. The fuzzy thinkers, however, refused to see that they were making the same mistakes which in the Thirties delivered a substantial part of WPA to Communist Party organizers.

Urban renewal and the poverty program are but two examples of the vast errors being made. If American life is to regain its sanity, the policies of the past must be examined objectively before any solutions can be expected.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY JR.

King Asks Massive Civil Disobedience

NOW DR. MARTIN Luther King proposes massive "dislocations." Not violent dislocations, understand. Just "massive civil disobedience," like blocking plant gates, highways, government operations, sit-ins in federal buildings, that kind of thing. But not violent, repeat. The man reporting to work at his factory is not expected to press his way through Dr. King's human wall, nor the wife driving her car to pick up her child at school, to trample the toes of the satyograhi. No violence, just a national convulsion.

Actually, Dr. King can't bring it off. He has lost much of his following, and increasingly he emerges as the Harold Stassen of the civil rights movement. "Last summer in Chicago," Andrew Kopkind remarks in a review (New York Review of Books) of Dr. King's recent book, "Where Do We Go From Here?" "He was booed at a mass, meeting, and later, as he lay in bed unsleeping, he understood why."

WHY? BECAUSE the dream that he kept preaching had not come. The Freedom Now that he sang from coast to coast had not been realized. "The Movement," Mr. Kopkind observes, "is dead: the Revolution is unborn. The streets are bloody and ablaze, but it is difficult to see why, and impossible to know for what end . . . If it is any comfort, liberalism proves hardly more effective than fascism."

The civil rights movement as such is of course transformed. The realization has dawned that all those legislative enactments calculated to produce equality before the law were not enough to reify the heavenly kingdom. Indeed and perversely, it sometimes seemed as if the greater the effort to integrate, to dispense welfare, the less that was accomplished.

"JEROME CAVANAUGH of Detroit," Mr. Kopkind continues, "is the most 'progressive' mayor in the country; his battleground is bloodier than Sam Yorty's was. At least we know now that even if all Martin Luther King's programs were enacted, and all Jerome Cavanaugh's reforms were adopted, and the Great Society as it is described materialized before our very eyes, there would still be the guerrillas."

Understand, Mr. Kopkind is of the school that cannot bring itself to criticize the guerrillas. The dissatisfaction with King is that he does not recognize the essential cynicism of the American system. Mr. Kopkind's frame of reference in contemporary affairs is best suggested by his reference to the Vietnam war as "the most barbaric imperialistic war of this century," (for which of course America is to blame). He is simply one more observer who welcomes the general chaos because it could bring down the American system, and that is the goal for which they most devoutly wish.

WHAT SPECIFICALLY does Dr. King want? In his book he asks for a guaranteed annual income, which is not so different from the radical but attractive proposal of Dr. Milton Friedman for a negative income tax. He wants: more Negroes elected as officials (since the book's appearance the State of Mississippi has munificently obliged); better schools (who doesn't); more jobs (the unemployment rate is reassuringly low); and protection of everyone's rights.

But the point is, as Mr. Kopkind quite rightly intuits, that if all of this were realized, there would still be the guerrillas, to use the phrase he so obviously relishes, even if he came later than others to appreciating why they developed.

JAMES BALDWIN said in June of 1963: "Martin Luther King is a great man, but he has come to the end of his rope." And on that occasion, conservatives also discerned the same thing. "It is a tragic matter," (I wrote, commenting on Baldwin's book, "The Fire Next Time"), "tragedy here defined as an irresistible force moving on a collision course towards an immovable body. What Baldwin has asked for is nothing less than the evanescence of color. So long as the eyes remark the difference between black and white, existential differences, of greater or lesser consequence, but of meaning just the same, will exist. The job at hand is not to try to obliterate differences which only autohypnotic col r blindness could achieve, but to stimulate man's capacity for love and his toleration, understanding, and respect for other, different people."

Such a program will not likely be accelerated by Martin Luther King's new, desperate exhortation to chaos. Nor should it. Repression is an unpleasant instrument, but it is absolutely necessary for civilizations that believe in order and human rights. I wish Hitler and Lenin had been repressed. And word should be gently got through to the non-violent avenger Dr. King, that in the unlikely event he succeeds in mobilizing his legions, they will be most efficiently, indeed most zestfully repressed. In the name, quite properly, of social justice.

BARRY GOLDWATER

Denies Russia Real Proponent Of Peace

SOME OF AMERICA'S most respected and renowned commentators, not to mention an army of "off-the-record" government sources, are seriously and dangerously misinterpreting the Soviet attitude toward violence in this hemisphere.

They are saying that the Soviet Union took a definite position against violence in North and South America at the recent Havana conference of revolutionaries — including our own "delegate," Stokley Carmichael.

As evidence, they cite the publication in official Soviet journals of such positions as that of the Chilean Communist Party which, the interpreters say, is clearly against violence and in favor of traditional political means to power.

NOTHING COULD be further from the facts. The position of the Chilean party, as a thorough reading of their document shows, is simply that each Communist Party in each nation of the hemisphere should decide when to replace traditional politics with the politics of violence, subversion, guerrilla warfare, terrorism or whatever other revolutionary weapon is indicated.

If there is even a spark of disagreement between the Soviet Union and the advocates of violence who dominated the Havana conference, it is whether violence should be promoted across-the-board now or whether it should be used more selectively.

There is nowhere in the Soviet position any disagreement beyond that. Castro may be calling for a universal fire right now. The Soviet attitude is to apply the torch more patiently.

THE FACTS OF political life in the Americas bear this out. In Chile, their Communist Party makes clear, it is still possible to make considerable headway without violence. But even Luis Corvalan, the spokesman whose Pravda article inspired much of the Havana misinterpretation, calls for nothing more "dovelike" than letting local leaders decide when to start the shooting.

In Columbia, however, the argument between Communists is over who is the most effectively violent. The pro-Castro faction is waging a mini-war in the mountains. The regular Communist Party, to keep up with them, has started guerrilla operations in some of the southern provinces.

Bolivia, also, is feeling the pains that even a small band of guerrillas can cause — with a major military effort being mounted now to root out the several hundred Castro-backed guerrillas operating there.

GUERRILLAS IN Guatemalla have lately slowed their operations, not because of any ideological objection to violence, but because the government's soldiers have run them to ground.

The same situation applies in Stokely Carmichael's conference cries for guerrilla war in the United States. The Soviets scarcely would issue a public statement supporting this—particularly when they are doing their level best to charm the United States into some multi-billion - dollar trade concessions.

But there is no evidence beyond the pipe-and-day-dreaming of certain professional cold war optimists that the Soviet Union is lifting a finger to discourage anyone anywhere who wants to take a crack at terrorizing or even killing anyone in the capitalist or non - Communist nations.

FIREMEN DIG THROUGH the ruins for the bodies of a mother and four children who died in a farmhouse fire near St. Cloud, Minn., early Friday. Dead are Mrs. Loretta Hoskins, 29, and her children, Julie, 7; Darla, 4; Linda, 1½, and David, 6 weeks. The husband and father, David, 30, was found tied to a nearby clothesline post with bullet wounds in the shoulder and stomach. (AP Wirephoto)

Rope-Bound Husband Shot

Searchers Find Bodies In Ashes Of Farm Home

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (UPI)—A mother and her four young children burned to death in their blazing farm home Friday. Outside, the father of the house was found spread-eagled between two laundry poles and shot twice.

A group of teen-age youths freed the father, David Hoskins, 30, and then had to struggle with him to keep him from dashing into the flames to rescue his family.

The youths took Hoskins to a country store and tavern, where he lurched through the door and gasped out a story of being attacked by six strangers while he was watching a late movie on television with his wife.

"They grabbed me and tied me up," he told store owner Bernard Mueller. "They put a towel over my face."

Then, as Mueller and bartender Jimmy Loesch tried to quiet him, Hoskins cried, "The barn is on fire! Leave me go—leave me go! The kids are upstairs I've got to get them out of there."

Firemen found the isolated home, located in woodlands 18 miles southwest of St. Cloud, a roaring mass of flames. It was not until mid-morning that they could report they had found the charred bodies of Mrs. Loretta Hoskins, 29, and her children, Julie Ann, 6, Darla, 4, Linda, 1, and David Eli, 6 weeks.

Hoskins was in critical condition in St. Cloud Hospital, shot in the chest and stomach.

Abrasions on his wrists gave testimony of the manner in which he was trussed up with clothes line, forced to hang from a cross bar between the laundry poles while his home burned in front of him.

It was the second time in a week that an apparent mass murder had struck a farm family in the northlands. On Tuesday, a killer with a .22 caliber rifle wiped out the James Peterson family near Shell Lake, Sask.

The Shell Lake murderer has not been found. Although authorities said it appeared Hoskins had also been shot with a .22, they made no immediate attempt to link the two slaughters.

Candidacy For Sheriff Announced

FARMERVILLE (Special) — J. T. Rockett has announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Union Parish in the Nov. 4th Democratic Primary election.

Rockett made the following statement:

"Much encouragement from people in various parts of the parish serious thoughts on my part and a desire to serve as sheriff have motivated me to become a candidate for the office. I served as deputy under the present sheriff for a period of two years. In this capacity while performing my duty, I was in a car accident which resulted in being relieved of my duties. Having served as your deputy, I have some knowledge of the problems and needs of law enforcement.

"I seek this office on my own merit and not on the demerits of others. I neither seek the support of, nor am I a member of any questionable organization. Efficient people will be employed to make up the department. I expect to select men who are capable and respected to serve as deputies. Those selected will be announced at a later date through this paper.

"When I am your sheriff, I will organize the department in such manner as to give the citizens of Union Parish the protection they deserve, along with quick, and efficient service. In performing my duties I will render fair, impartial service to all, and favoritism to none.

"Because of the seemingly lack of respect for law and order, and the changes in our society, I feel that the shierff's department should be organized to cope with present - day problems and the trend toward liberalism.

"My plans are to move within the city limits of Farmerville. I hope to see each voter personally, but if for some reason I fail to contact you, and you feel as I do that a change in the sheriff's department is needed, then I ask for your vote on November 4, 1967."

Two Planes In Crashes Near Laurel

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — A Marine Corps attack jet of a type used by the Navy in Vietnam crashed in a wooded area northeast of Laurel Friday after the oil pressure in its engine failed. The pilot parachuted to earth safely.

A companion A4 attack jet, flying with the one that crashed, safely made an emergency landing at Laurel Airport at about 5:40 p.m. It apparently had mechanical troubles also.

The airplanes did not collide. The A4 is a small, singel-engine airplane that carries one man. The Navy uses it in Vietnam as a carrier bases fighter-bomber.

A Navy spokesman at the Meridian Naval Auxiliary Air Station said the jets were flying from the Marine Corps air station at Beaufort S. C., to Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma.

The pilot of the airplane that crashed ejected near Heidelberg, Miss., about 20 miles northeast of this town of 30,000 people in the southeast Mississippi pine forests.

The navy had no word on the precise location of the jet's crash.

HOWARD HENRY

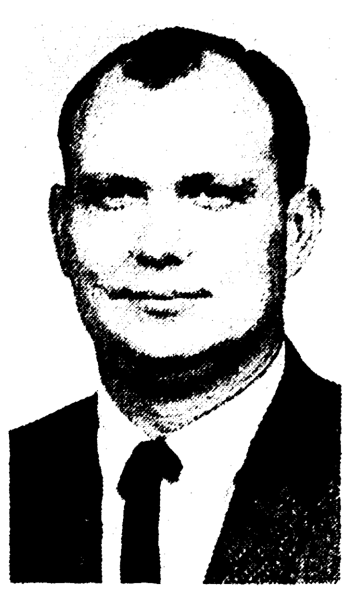
Henry Seeks Juror Post From Union

DOWNSVILLE (Special) — Howard Henry, Route 1, Downsville, has announced his candidacy for a Ward 5 seat on the Union Parish Police Jury in the first Democratic Primary to be held November 4.

Henry states that with his experience of 30 years on road construction and road maintenance work fully qualifies him to the post.

Henry, 50, and a lifelong resident of Ward 5, has been previously employed by the parish and has devoted 13 years to the improvement of the ward.

"Your vote and support will be appreciated," he said.



EMMETT RICHARDSON

Richardson Seeking Area Juror Post

WINNSBORO (Special) — Emmett E. Richardson, 34, of Winnsboro, has announced as a candidate for one of the three Franklin Parish Ward 7 police jury seats in the Democratic primary election November 4, 1967.

An officer with the Franklin State Bank and Trust Co. in Winnsboro since 1965, he is a native of Franklin Parish and a member of the First Methodist church in Winnsboro. He is married to the former Mary Frances Hooper of Winnsboro, and they are the parents of two children, Sam, nine, and Amy, six.

Richardson is a graduate of Crowville High School, Louisiana Business College, and attended Northeast Louisiana State College in Monroe.

He served Four years in the U. S. Navy and is a veteran of the Korean conflict. He is an active member of the Winnsboro Lions Club, a Mason and a Shriner.

Richardson said in his announcement:

"I sincerely believe that I have the essential qualifications, both educational and experience, to make a good police juryman. While I am not optimistic enough to believe we can cure all the problems of the police jury overnight, I do believe that 11 men of good will can bring solvency to our parish government.

"I intend personally to see as many citizens as possible. I earnestly solicit your vote and support. If I did not believe that I have the qualifications for this job, I would not be a candidate for this office."

Area Woman Is Seeking House Post

COLUMBIA (Special) — Mrs. Patricia Kennedy Love has announced as a candidate for the 46th Representative Post, from Caldwell and Richland Parishes. She is a 21 - year - old Clarks resident and the only entry in the race from Caldwell Parish.

Her statement follows:

"After a great deal of thought and prayer, I have decided to enter the race for the Louisiana House of Representatives. I have come to this decision with the full knowledge of the tremendous job which lies ahead.

"I am a native of Caldwell and Richland Parishes. Being born in Richland Parish in 1946; I have attended public school at Start, for nine years before moving to Caldwell Parish, where I also attended public schools of the parish. I am a 1964 graduate of Oak Ridge High School.

"I am 21 years old, and I am the daughter of Mrs. Ruby Cotton of Clarks, and Mr. J. T. Kennedy Jr. of Atlanta, Georgia; I am the grand - daughter of Mrs. Ethel Kennedy and the late Mr. J. T. Kennedy Sr. of Start; and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bennett Sr. of Rayville. I have one younger brother, Mr. R. L. Cotton Jr. also of Clarks, La.

"I am employed by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company as a superviser in Baton Rouge, La., but I am returning to Caldwell Parish this month to live, because I feel that I can be of more assistance to you the people than I would be able to in Baton Rouge.

"I am ready, I am willing and I am able to serve the people of the great parishes of Caldwell and Richland. I am active in religious, civic and other organizations. During my high school years, I was active in all school organizations, including our student body government; where I also served as vice - president, and was later presented with the American Legion Award among other honors upon graduation. I am also a member of Clarks Baptist Church of Clarks, Louisiana.

"May I close in saying that my most sincere desire is to serve you, the people of Caldwell and Richland Parishes well. I humbly solicit the vote and support of all the citizens of these two parishes."

Former Navy Pilot Denies Bomb Dumping Story

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — A former Navy pilot denied Friday that he had said fliers launched from carriers off Vietnam dump about a third of their bombs and rockets into the sea and are pressed into useless missions by commanders trying to amass combat records.

The Bay City Times, which quoted former Lt. Alex Waier on ordnance dropping and necessity of missions in a copyrighted story Tuesday, said it was sticking by its report.

Waier said he had been incorrectly quoted as saying he had flown 100 missions against North Vietnamese targets. He said 'it was less than 50" and that some were search and rescue, not bombing missions.

Asked how many were combat missions, he replied: "I don't remember. I didn't keep count."

In talking with The Associated Press Tuesday subsequent to the Bay City Times story, Waier said he had "serious questions about justifying a 10 per cent increase for the Vietnam War when much of the money now being spent is a waste."

He also told The Associated Press then that "there are a lot of insignificant targets where bombs are dropped and I consider this a wasteful approach and not our original objective in Vietnam which is to stop infiltration of supplies."

"I did say about a third of our ordnance was dropped in the water and that's a conservative estimate.' " Waier said Friday in an interview with the AP Friday.

"Three people heard him say that," said David Miller, news editor of the Bay City Times and one of the authors of the story which grew from a two-hour interview with Waier.

Waier complained that what he said about his experiences aboard the carrier Ticonderoga in the Gulf of Tonkin had been "sensationalized, not so much misquoted." But he went on to deny some of the story's major points.

"I never said anyone flew just for the sake of (chalking up) a sortie," Waier said at his home here Friday.

"Ordnance was dropped sometimes because it was necessary because weather prevented bombing the assigned target or you couldn't find the target.

"In my opinion it was not necessary to bomb as much as we did and that because of this ordnance was thrown away."

He added that he didn't believe some missions should have been flown because weather conditions were known to be poor before missions were sent out. The Times had quoted him as saying "we weren't supposed to go on our hops without a minimum ceiling of 5,000 feet and vie-mile visibility," but had done so often.

Police Probe Fire Setting In Houston

HOUSTON (UPI) — Twelve persons jailed on suspicion of setting fires in a predominatly Negro neighborhood were released Friday, and police continued their investigation of 10 cases of suspected arson.

About 30 policemen, some of whom had been called in on their day off, patrolled the five-mile area in southeast Houston that has been wracked by racial turmoil Wednesday and Thursday night.

A few of the policemen carried shotguns in their cars, but department said the guns were the officers' own. Normally, patrolmen do not carry shotguns owned by the department during the day but do at night.

Firemen answered 24 alarms Thursday night and early Friday. They said 10 of the fires were the work of arsonists and most of them were ignited by homemade firebombs. They said a Molotov cocktail was responsible for the most serious blaze that all but destroyed a small grocery.

Two police cars were struck by bricks and a bottle hit a third car.

Police said they were having difficulty in their arson investigations because it was extremely hard to prove anyone in particular was responsible.

"We've had a lot of people carrying gasoline and we've got a lot of gas cans, but that's not a violation of any law," one policeman said.

Banks of clouds hung over the city most of the day, and occasionally rain fell from them.

Woman Begins College At 72

LAS VEGAS, Nevada (AP) — Mrs. Blanche Coe of Henderson felt left out when she attended the 50th anniversary reunion of her high school graduating class. As she put it: "They were all very successful, some doctors, some lawyers, and they were all very nice. But I just didn't feel educated enough next to them." So the 72-year-old great-grandmother has decided to remedy all that. She has been admitted to Nevada Southern University as a freshman complete with the traditional beany.

Officials at the university say that as far as they know, she's the oldest student ever to be enrolled in any branch of the university of Nevada.

The commencement ceremonies four years from now might be a little crowded if all her family shows up. She has seven living children, 26 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Arab Refugees Slow To Return

ALLENBY BRIDGE, Israel (AP) —Silent and bedraggled, only 355 Arab refugees from the June war crossed from Jordan to Israeli-held Jordanian territory Friday on the first day of repatriation. At least 1,000 had been expected and Israel and Jordan blamed each other for the slowdown.

Jordan announced that 167,500 of the more than 200,000 refugees had applied to return to their homes. But Israeli officials doubted more than 35,000 could be repatriated before the Aug. 31 deadline.

An Israeli Interior Ministry spokesman said of the day's poor showing: "The Jordanian organization let us down badly. It is apparently just not equipped to handle a project of this size."

Jordanian officials said the names of those eligible to return to their homes had been given them only Thursday and this was not time enough.

Dr. Meir Silverstone, director of the Israeli Interior Ministry, met with senior Jordanian and International Red Cross officials to discuss how to speed up the crossings. Repatriation will continue Sunday after time out for the Jewish Sabbath Saturday.

Red Cross officials, sweating in the Dead Sea heat, assisted many of the refugees, carrying their belongings and helping old people across the boards of the wrecked Allenby Bridge across the River Jordan. The bridge was knocked out during the June 5-10 war.

Most of the refugees were women, children and bent old men in long robes.

Commented Brig. Abdullah Rafee, secretary of Jordan's refugee committee: It seems the Israelis have selected only the very young and very old and have taken no chances on letting young men return yet."

The refugees were processed on the eastern bank by the International Red Cross and Jordanian and Israeli officials. It was the first time since the war that an Israeli had been allowed on Arab soil except for cease-fire talks.

Before crossing the river, each man, woman and child received $14 from the Jordanian government to help in reset- losses resulting from the war, Jordan cannot take care of the thousands of refugees.

The Red Cross hopes to step up the flow of refugees to 4,000 a day by next week. But Roland Troyon, a Red Cross official, said at the present rate it would take six months to complete the repatriation.

It was considered unlikely that Prime Minister Levi Eshkol's government will extend the repatriation date, since it was under heavy pressure from Israeli press and public to bar the Arabs entirely as security risks.

Critics say Jordan has been encouraging the returning Arabs to act as an anti-Israeli fifth column. Western diplomats in Jordan, however, said broadcasts from the capital at Amman have only urged the returning Arabs to remain loyal to Jordan.

Typical of the Israeli attitude was the remark of an Israeli officer watching the stream of ragged refugees carrying mattresses, stoves, blankets, scraps of food and family heirlooms. He said: "We are taking a calculated security risk."

Youth Killed

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Steven J. Melancon Jr., 19, was killed Friday when the car he was driving struck a bridge railing and plunged into a canal. The accident occurred just outside the city limits.

Wilson and Fluitt Lake Report

Beautiful 14 mile Lake Bartholomew, ten minutes north of Monroe is experiencing a beautification program. Government experts continue to work on the lake and many land owners are clearing up their lots. Ed Wilson and George Fluitt, well known real etate brokers and land promoters, have moved in heavy equipment to clean up the island. The 175 lake lots averaging $3000 each have all been sold. However the inside lots (100x200 ft.) will now go at the unbelievable price of just $1200, including improvements. Excellent bank financing will be available at $300 down and $28.21 monthly.

An elaborate boat ramp will be built for the island land owners and plans for horse stables are on the drawing board.

Fluitt reports that 13 commercial unrestricted lots will go on the sales block soon and will be sold at the same price as the lake lots, if all 13 can be closed at one time.

Wilson announced that the 96 unsubdivided acres in the center of the island will be sold in March 1968 in 3 acre exclusive estates. Phenomenal sales are result of island proximity to Monroe and Bastrop, and the public desire for camps, homes, fishing, gardening, and horses.

Six homes have been built and two are under construction in the $25,000 price range. Minimum required heated area is 900 sq. ft. and trailers are excluded. One elaborate camp house has been completed.

Bridge and roads are parish maintained.

For information and appointment without obligation, call George Fluitt or G.M.F. Realty 387-1160, or Ed Wilson of Ed Wilson Realty at 387-3251. The lake office is 600 feet north of the Monroe-Sterlington-Bastrop intersection, and will be open Saturday and Sunday from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m., phone 665-4582.

Everyone wants an escape from town. This is your opportunity to buy something of enjoyment while seeing your investment increase in value. Adv.

Oriole Manager Ejected

ChiSox Clip Birds, 3-1 On Ward's Disputed Home Run

CHICAGO (AP) — Pete Ward's disputed two run-homer in the sixth inning powered the Chicago White Sox to a 3-1 tory over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night in the first game of a doubleheader.

The start of the opener was delayed for more than two hours because of rain.

Ward's blast off reliever Moe Drabowsky wiped out a 1-0 Baltimore lead and led to the ejection of Oriole Manager Hank Bauer.

Rocky Colavito greeted Drabowsky with a single and Ward followed with his 13th homer of the year. The Orioles contended the ball hit the top of the wall but lost the argument and Bauer was tossed out of the game.

The White Sox added an insurance run following Ward's homer on a walk, a hit batsman and Wayne Causey's pinch single.

Joe Horlen, who left for a pinch hitter in the sixth, was credited with his 14th victory in 17 decisions as relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm finished up.

Mathews Singles In First Tiger Appearance

DETROIT (AP) — Eddie Mathews joined the Detroit Tigers Friday night and drove in a run with a second-inning single as the Tigers beat Cleveland 4-0 in a rain shortened game.

The game was called with one out in the bottom of the fifth as a downpour hit.

Willie Horton walked starting the Tiger second. Bill Freehan singled and Mathews, in his first American League appearance after 15 years in the National League, cracked a single to left, scoring Horton. Norm Cash followed with a single and Freehan scored on Chuck Hinton's bad throw to the plate.

Winning pitcher Mickey Lolich brought Matthews home with an infield out and Mickey Stanley drove Cash home with a single.

After Sam McDowell walked Dick McAuliffe, Orlando Pena relieved and stopped the Tigers the rest of the way.

Lolich won his second straight game and lifted his record to 7-12, allowing just one hit—Tony Horton's single in the fourth. He struck out four and didn't walk a man.

Johnson Has 2 Homers In Dodger Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lou Johnson clouted two home runs Friday night and Don Drysdale pitched a seven-hitter as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Atlanta 5-1.

Johnson's homers in the first and fourth inning staked Drysdale, 9-12, to a 2-1 lead against loser Denver Lemaster, 8-7. The Dodgers drove Lemaster from the mound with three runs in the sixth, two of them scoring on a single by Al Ferrara. Bob Bailey's run-scoring single climaxed the rally.

It was the first victory since July 15 for Drysdale. The veteran right-hander lost a shutout in the second inning when Rico Carty clouted his 15th homer of the season.

A walk to Johnson and a single by Jim Lefebvre started the Dodgers' clinching three-run rally in the sixth inning.

Russia Quits Tokyo Games

TOKYO (AP) — Radio Moscow said Friday the Soviet Union has decided to withdraw from the Tokyo University Games Aug. 26-Sept. 4 in support of "a just demand" of Communist North Korea.

A Japanese-language broadcast, monitored here, said the decision was announced by the Students Sports Organization of the Soviet Union.

North Korea has announced it will boycott the Games in opposition to a new rule that athletes must compete under the name of their sports organizations instead of the name of their countries.

Chandler Shines In Packer Win

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The world champion Green Bay Packers built a lead on three Don Chandler field goals and coasted to a 18-0 victory over the passing-poor Chicago Bears in a National Football League exhibition game Friday night.

Chandler scored from 37, 45, and 28 yards out after Packer offensives stuttered.

Green Bay added two points on a third-period safety when tackle Ron Kostelnik wrenched Chicago quarterback Jack Concannon loose from the ball near the end zone.

The game's only touchdown came on a one-yard run by Jim Grabowski following a Ray Nitschke interception of a Larry Rakestraw pass.

Rakestraw was the third of three Chicago quarterbacks, following Rudy Bukich and Concannon into the game. The three had a net passing yardage of minus 46 through the first three periods.

Bart Starr, the NFL's leading passer a year ago had an off night. He missed on his first eight passes, fumbled three times, and was thrown for losses five times while attempting to pass.

Giants Clip Reds, 3-1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Run scoring singles by Willie Mays and Jesus Alou backed the six-hit pitching of Ray Sadecki and carried the San Francisco Giants to a 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Friday night.

Mays' single to left came after Alou and Jim Davenport singled to open the fifth inning. The blow came off loser Milt Pappas, now 12-8.

Alou, who had four hits, singled an insurance run home in the eighth.

The Giants ended Pappas' scoreless inning streak at 19 by scoring the game's first run in the second inning on three singles and Alou's run-scoring grounder.

Sadecki, who helped his cause with a single in the second, was touched for a run in the third when Tommy Harper walked, stole second and third and scored on Pete Rose's squeeze bunt.

Sadecki, now 5-4, escaped the inning with only one run because Pappas was picked off second by catcher Tom Haller after opening the inning with a single and advancing on Harper's hit.

Twins Squeak Split With Yanks

Reese Provides Last-Ditch Homer

NEW YORK (AP) — Rich Reese's two - run pinch-hit homer in the ninth inning gave Minnesota a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees and a split of a twi-night doubleheader Friday.

The Yankees won the opener 1-0 behind Steve Barber's six - hitter, snapping a seven-game Minnesota winning streak and a three-gme losing streak of their own.

Ted Uhlaender led off the ninth inning of the nightcap for the Twins, singling for the sixth hit off Fred Talbot, 5-5. Reese hit for reliever Ron Kline and drove his third homer of the season into the rightfield bleachers.

The Yanks had taken a 3-2 lead in the eight on Joe Pepitone's sacrifice fly, driving in Jake Gibbs, who singled and moved to third when Jackie Hernandez threw wildly to first on Tom Tresh's bunt attempt.

The earlier Twins' runs came in the third and fifth innings, both on sacrifice flies by Harmon Killebrew.

The Yanks scored in the first on Bill Robinson's run scoring single and in the fourth on an RBI single by Ruben Amaro.

The only run in the first game came in the first inning when Horace Clarke led off with a single, went to second on Tresh's single, to third on a wild pitch and scored on Pepitone's single.

Barber, 9-13, allowed the Twins to load the bases in the first and fifth inning, but pitched his way out of both jams. Jim Kaat, 9-12, went all the way for Minnesota.

Barry Will Discuss Plans With Lawyers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rick Barry, the National Basketball Association scoring champion, said Friday he will talk with his lawyers next week about what he will do in the coming season.

Barry, here to instruct at a basketball camp, signed a reported a $500,000 contract with Oakland of the new American Basketball Association, after playing for San Francisco in 1966-'67. However, a San Francisco judge granted the Warriors an injunction that prevents Barry from playing for any club other than San Francisco in the coming season.

The ruling of the judge was made pending a decision on the validity of the reserve clause on Barry's contract with the Warriors.

Barry said he was offered a contract by the Warriors that could bring him as much as $75,000 based on attendance.

Barry said if the San Francisco owner Franklin Mieuli had offered him the same contract as Warrior center Nate Thurmond, he would have remained in the NBA.

'I don't say that the Warriors have to pay me the same salary as Thurmond, " Barry continued, "because I am aware that I can pick up more money on the side than Nat. But there was no comparison."

The NBA scoring champion said he felt he could perform at full ability for the Warriors if he should play for San Francisco.

"I play to win no matter what the circumstances," Barry added. "even when I'm playing Chinese checkers, I go all out to win."

Cards Keep On Shambling

HOUSTON (AP) — Mike Shannon and Julian Javier drove in two runs apiece as the streaking St. Louis Cardinals defeated Houston 5-3 Friday night for their seventh straight victory.

Shannon stroked a fourth inning home run—the first hit against loser Mike Cuellar. After Tim McCarver reached on an error, Javier also homered.

Doubles by Doug Rader and Ron Brand gave the Astros a run in the fourth but St. Louis picked up two more with two out in the fifth when Alex Johnson tripled, Cut Flood singled, Orlando Cepeda walked and Shannon singled.

Houston touched winner Steve Carlton for two in the sixth when Rusty Staub and Rader singled. Bob Aspromonte doubled the runs across.

Carlton, 11-6, didn't allow another hit after Aspromonte's blow and finished with a six-hitter. He struck out 11.

Shannon's homer was his 10th and Javier hit his 12th.

The Cardinals have made a shambles of the National League race with a 13-4 record last month.

Mantle, Ford Get Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — The former pitching star of the New York Yankees received a proclamation from Mayor Lindsay on Whitey Ford Day Friday, and Mickey Mantle got a surprise.

Ford, who retired because of arm trouble earlier this summer, visited City Hall for the presentation by Lindsay. Mantle, the Yankees first baseman who accompanied Ford, received unexpectedly a bronze medal from the mayor for hitting 500 career home runs.

Landis Cut For Mathews

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers cut Jim Landis Friday to make room for Eddie Mathews.

Landis, an outfielder, was obtained from the Houston Astros in June in a waiver trade for relief pitcher Larry Sherry. The outfielder, acquired when Al Kaline went on the disabled list with a broken hand, has hit .208 in 25 games for the Tigers.

Hill Equals Best Golf Round Of '67

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Dave Hill, getting birdies by the bunch, shot a 10-under-par 61 Friday to zoom past South Africa's Gary Player and Texan Terry Dill and take the lead at the halfway mark of the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament with a 133 total for 36 holes.

Player fired a 69 after a first round 65 which led the field. But the South African needed birdie putts of 35 and nine feet on the final two holes of the day to close in on Hill. Dill, of Austin, Tex., added a 68 to his opening 66 and posted the same 134 total carved by Player.

Veteran Doug Ford scored a 67 and was fourth with 135. Newcomer Lee Treveno of El Paso, Tex., was in fifth place at 136 after his 69.

Hill's round over the par 71 Wethersfield Country Club equaled the best on the professional golf tour this year. Gay Brewer fashioned a 61 in the Pensacola Open.

Hill, 30, of Evergreen, Colo., winner of the Memphis Open in May, had struggled to a one-over-par 72 Thursday. But once he found the range Friday he took full advantage.

"Whenever I get to playing well, I keep charging . . . like a roadrunner," Hill said.

Starting with birdies at the first and fifth holes, he added three more in a row at eight, nine and 10. Another string of three consecutive birdies started at the 12th hole and two more birdies were strung together at 16 and 17.

Superb iron play set up most of Hill's birdie chances, although he needed a 35-foot putt at one point to keep a birdie string going. Most of the others were from short range, 10 feet or less.

The all-time PGA record, and the course record at Wethersfield, is 60 and Hill's 10-foot putt on the final hole missed that mark by just one inch.

Player's 69 was uneventful. He had a long string of two-putt greens, as the putting mastery he exhibited Thursday failed him for 16 holes.

Dill, for the second day in a row, declined an invitation to talk to reporters about his 68. He said Thursday his previous trips to the press tent after a good round were followed by scores of 76 or 77. Dill's longest birdie putt went in from 10 feet, and he missed a two-footer at the ninth hole, which kept him from tying for the lead.

The 44-year-old Ford, a former Masters and PGA champion, said his chipping and driving were the best he's been able to produce in the past four years. His last tour victory was the Canadian Open in 1963.

Clay Weds In Muslim Ceremony

CHICAGO (AP) — Cassius Clay, deposed world heavyweight boxing champion, was married Friday night, a source at his home said.

A man, who identified himself as Gene Mason, said Clay and Belinda Boyd, 17, were wed in a Black Muslim ceremony at 6:30 p.m., CDT.

Mason said he is a member of Clay's training camp.

Clay's parents flew in from Atlanta but were too late to attend the ceremony. They did attend a reception, however, at Clay's South Side home, where the wedding was performed.

The bride was dressed in a floor length white dress and veil. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boyd, attended the ceremony.

The couple was to leave for a honeymoon in Hawaii at about midnight, Mason said.

Clay and Miss Boyd took out a marriage license Thursday, with the champion signing as "Muhammad Ali," his Black Muslim name.

The bride also is a member of the sect and was graduated this year from the University of Islam in Chicago, a school with grades 1 through 12.

The marriage was the second for Clay, 25, who was divorced last year from Sonji M. Roi, now 27. Clay maintained at that time that he broke the marriage because his wife failed to live up to her promise to join the Muslims and to abide by the sect's code.

The champion's new bride is the oldest of the four Boyd children. The family lives in suburban Blue Island.

Clay has said he knew his bride for about four years and has been romantically inclined for about a year.

His marriage originally was set for Sunday. No reason was given for the change in dates.

Clay is appealing a prison term for refusing to take the military draft oath. He objected on the ground that he is a Muslim minister. Most of the world's boxing groups have deprived Clay of his heavyweight title because of his draft decision.

Tourney Will Delay Tee Time

Monroe's Municipal gilf course will be closed to public play until about 4:30 p.m. Sunday due to a tournament.

A four - ball tournament of 48 teams will be conducted Sunday with public play delayed until the last foursome of the 27 - hole tourney has teed off.

Professional Johnny Myers said some openings still are available for the tournament. The entry fee is $20 per team.

Bell Spins Four-Hitter For Boston; Conigliaro Injured

BOSTON (AP) — Right-hander Gary Bell hurled hitless ball for 6 1-3 innings and finished with a four-hitter Friday night as Boston defeated the California Angels 3-2.

Bell, who led the Red Sox' attack with a double and a run scoring single, lost his no-hit bid when Jimmie Hall hit the first pitch into the left field screen for his 14th homer. Hall homered again in the ninth.

The victory, boosting Boston two full games ahead of fifth place California in the tight American League pennant race, was a costly one for the Red Sox.

Tony Conigliaro, the Red Sox' 22-year-old slugger with 20 homers and 65 RBI in just 95 games, was hit on the left temple and knocked unconscious by a pitch thrown by California starter Jack Hamilton in the fourth inning.

Conigliaro was carried on a stretcher to the clubhouse, where he regained consciousness before being taken to nearby Santa Maria Hospital.

A club spokesman said preliminary examination showed a severe concussion.

Jose Tartabull ran for Conigliaro and scored as Rico Petrocelli tripled over center fielder Jose Cardenal's head. Petrocelli scored on a wild relay throw to the plate by Jim Fregosi.

Two walks and Bell's single provided an insurance run off Bill Kelso in the sixth.

Bell struck out five and walked one in boosting his record to 8-10.

Mikan Enthusiastic About New ABA's Chances

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The commissioner of the new American Basketball Association, George L. Mikan of Minneapolis, radiated enthusiasm Friday about the new professional circuit.

Mikan, himself a former top-drawer pro star, said "all 11 franchises are solid and we're ready to go.

"The ABA clubs have signed more than 90 per cent of their draft choices," he said at a news conference during a weekend meeting of league coaches and officials. "The league looks highly competitive."

Mikan, asked about the "super-stars" of the older National Basketball Association, commented, "in one year we'll have plenty of super-stars of our own.

"We're ready to play the NBA anytime they want to play," he said, but added there have been no efforts between the two circuits to arrange any interleague meetings.

The ABA will open competition Oct. 13 with Anaheim playing at Oakland. They are in the Western Division, along with Denver, New Orleans, Houston and Dallas.

The Eastern Division has New York, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Indianapolis and Minnesota.

Mikan said in response to a question he feels the court decision in the Rick Barry case "is a step in the right direction." Barry had signed a contract with Oakland of the ABA, but a California judge ruled recently he is the property of San Francisco of the NBA for the coming season.

"This is the first time a court has made an interpretation in regard to the reserve clause in basketball," Mikan said.

The commissioner said the league is working on a television contract "with a major network," but declined to say which one. He added no decision will be reached at the Denver meeting.

Mikan spoke highly of the three-point ruling to be followed in league play. A field goal sunk from outside a 25-foot zone marked on the court will count three points instead of two.

"In borderline cases, this will have to be a judgment call by the official," he said, "and I realize there may be a lot of difference of opinion among the fans wmen the shot is allowed for the opponents."

Cubs Snap Loss Skein, Top Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Glenn Beckert drove in two runs and rookie left-hander Jim Ellis won his first major league game as the Chicago Cubs snapped a four-game losing streak with a 3-1 victory over Philadelphia Friday night.

The Cubs scored in the first when Don Kessinger opened with a triple. Beckert followed with a grounder to second, scoring Kessinger.

Phillies' starter Larry Jackson didn't allow another hit until Adolfo Phillips started the sixth with a single. Following a sacrifice and another out, Beckert drove in Phillips with a single to left. Billy Williams singled, sending Beckert to third and Ron Santo's double scored him.

The Phillies had tied the game in the fourth when Don Lock beat out a grounder to Santo and went to second on the third baseman's error. With two out, Johnny Callison drove in Lock.

Ellis, making his first major league start since being recalled from Tacoma on August 10, was lifted in the seventh after giving up a single and walk. Chuck Hartenstein replaced Ellis and got Cookie Rojas on a force play and Tony Taylor on a double play.

Slidell Track A Lost Cause

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Promoters of Dixieland Park gave up Friday their attempt to build a horse race track near Slidell.

"At this time we are not able to continue because of finances," Andrew Erwin, park president, told the Louisiana Racing Commission. "We had two financial sources. However, when I went to the bank today, we had no confirmation.

"Stockholders will get their money back."

Athletics Suspend Krausse For Unbecoming Conduct

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Pitcher Lew Krausse of the Kansas City Athletics was suspended indefinitely without pay Friday by owner Charles O. Finley and the club was notified that alcoholic drinks no longer will be served to the A's on airlines.

The owner warned the A's he won't tolerate the "shenanigans" of a few.

"Krausse has been suspended indefinitely without pay for conduct unbecoming a major league ball player," Finley announced from his Chicago office. "I will have no further comment on Krausse."

Finley added that the following bulletin, signed by him, will be posted in the A's club house at Washington:

"Effective immediately and for the balance of the season, alcoholic drinks no longer will be served on commercial airlines to members of the Kansas City Athletics.

"The Kansas City Athletics will no longer tolerate the shenanigans of a very few individuals who obviously do not appreciate the privilege of playing in the major leagues and being treated as gentlemen. The attitude, actions and words of some of you have been deplorable.

"As members of organized baseball, you have certain responsibilities and obligations to yourself, your family, your teammates, your club and most important of all—the fans.

"To the vast majority of you have always conducted yourselves as gentlemen on and off the playing field, I sincerely regret the necessity of this action."

Krausse said the incident occurred on a plane trip from Boston to Kansas City completing road trip Aug. 3. Krausse said, "Several other players were involved."

Krausse, a 24-year-old right-hander from Boothwyn, Pa., received a $125,000 bonus to sign in 1961. He led the A's with a 14-5 record last year. This season his record is 6-14.

Tax Aid Asked For Awards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank Morton, R-N.Y., has introduced legislation which would exempt from income taxes such sports awards as the S. Rae Hickok belt, given annually to the individual designated the professional athlete of the year.

The U.S. Tax Court ruled recentl ythat Maury Wills, winner of the Hickok Belt in 1962 when he was a member of the Los Angeles Dodgers, should have included the value of the award as part of his income and paid tax on it. The belt's value is estimated at $10,000.

"Payment of a tax on an award of such substantial value imposes a serious financial burden on its recipient," said Horton. "Sports awards such as the Hickok belt,should be exempt as are awards in the fields of literature, science, the arts and civic affairs.

Stargell Hits Second Super Home Run

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Willie Stargell clubbed his second homer of the year over Forbes Field's right field roof and Bob Veale halted New York on four hits after the first inning, carrying Pittsburgh to a 7-2 victory Friday night.

Stargell's homer, his 17th, came off Jack Fisher in the fourth inning. He became the first player ever to hit two homers over the roof in one season, a feat accomplished only 12 times.

Veale, 14-5, yielded two runs in the first inning. Bud Harrelson walked, Cleon Jones singled, Bob Johnson bounced out as Harrelson scored and Tommy Davis singled to score Jones.

Bill Mazeroski's bases-loaded sacrifice fly got one run back in the first and Gene Alley's single, a stolen base and Maury Wills' hit tied it in the second.

The Pirates went ahead with two runs in the third on singles by Bill Mazeroski, Manny Mota and Gene Alley and a wild pitch.

Teens Best 2 Girl Swim Marks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Claudia Kolb, rated by most experts as the best U. S. woman swimmer, and Betty Meyer a 10th-grade high school lass from Sacramento, Calif., each set unofficial world records Friday in the Women's Outdoor National AAU Swimming and Diving championships.

The 17-year-old Miss Kolb, a tall darkhaired girl with a face full of freckles, shattered her own existing and pending records for the 200-meter individual medley. She won in 2:25.0 about three yards over Sue Pederson of the Arden Hills S. C Sacrementon, Calif.

Miss Kolb, a senior at Santa Clara (Calif.) high School, set the 200-meter world record of 2:27.8 last year in the nationals at Lincoln, Neb., and recently bettered that with a 2:26.1 in the Pan-American games in Winnipeg, Can., where she won three titles.

Miss Meyer, a baby-faced brunette who turned 15 years last Monday, churned through Kelly Pool in 4:29, slicing nine seconds off the 400-meter freestyle record of 4:38 established in 1965 at Monaco by Philadelphia's Martha Randall.

She also trimmed her own pending record for the event of 4:32.6, set last month in the Pan-Am games.

Lt. Micki King, attached to a U. S. Air Force ROTC unit at the University of Michigan, became the four-day meet's first double winner when she won the three-meter springboard diving event with a total score of 466.90 over defending champion Sue Gossick of Tarzana, Calif., who also won the event in the Pam-Am games.

Miss Gossick totaled 46.25, losing out to the 23-year-old blonde Air Force officer on the last dive.

Miss King, a native of Pontiac, Mich., almost blew her second title in the earlier trials when she was docked 12.8 points for starting and failing to complete one of her exercises. She said the wind caught her and she started to fall.

"They say I came down and stopped and started again," she said. "I thought I came down and continued through with an arm-swing. Whether I accomplished it is not for me to say."

The comely Miss King, who Thursday won the one - meter diving championship clinched her title Friday with a back one-and-one-half somersault with a two-and-a-half twist on which she totaled 56.70 of a possible 60 points.

In Miss Meyers' 400-meter freestyle victory, the second, third and fourth finishers all broke the old world record behind the fast pace set by the 112 - pound Californians. Her quick, beautiful turns and lightning getaway enabled her to win by some eight yards over Pam Kruse of the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., S. A. Eadie Wetzel of Wilmette, Ill., was third and Linda Gustavson of the Santa Clara (Calif.) S. C., fourth.

Rules Set For St. Louis Hotels

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Baseball fans who already are planning to watch a possible St. Louis Cardinals world series will have to abide by some very definite rules as far as hotel and motel accommodations are concerned.

The Hotel and Motel Association of Greater St. Louis laid down the rules Thursday.

John K. Bryan, executive vice president of the association, said people who want rooms must pay for them in advance and reserve them for three or four nights.

"The period to be covered, with some exceptions due to group bookings already made, will be for the period commencing Friday, Oct. 6," Bryan said.

Room reservations for the world series will be accepted until Sept. 27.

Lombardi Disciples Square Off

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Two disciples of Vince Lombardi will be the opposing coaches tonight when the New Orleans Saints, pro football's newest team, collide with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Steelers' Bill Austin, who began his pro coaching career in 1959 under Lombardi, will be trying to bounce back after bowing 31-20 to his old boss' Green Bay Packers last week.

Tom Fears, the Saints' head coach, will be attempting to win two straight exhibition games—something never before accomplished by a first-year National Football League team.

Fears also got his start in coaching under "The Old Man" —that's what they affectionately call Lokbardi—in 1959. He and Austin wre fellow assistants at Green Bay for four years.

The game, which gets under way in LSU's Tiger Stadium here at 8 p.m., CDT, also features two backs who performed for LSU as collegians. The Saints' Jimmy Taylor — Who played for Lombardi 10 years —finished at LSU in 1957 while Earl Gros of the Steelers came along a few years later at Tigertown.

It's also a homecoming of sorts for Earl Leggett, the veteran tackle the Saints got from the Los Angeles Rams in the expansion draft. Like Taylor and Gros, Leggett also played at LSU.

The Saints upset the St. Louis Cardinals 23-14last week in their second outing. The oddsmakers have a healthy respect for the Saints and they are just one-point underdogs against the Steelers.

New Orleans is now 1-1 for the exhibition season. The Saints bowed to Los Angeles in their opener. The Steelers are looking for their first victory.

Fears plans to start Gary Wood, the onetime Ivy League scrambler obtained from the New York Giants, at quarterback. Wood didn't get off the bench last week when Bill Kilmer directed the Saints to victory with two touchdown passes. Fears also says he'll play quarterback Gary Cuozzo, who spent most of the second half on his backside when the Cardinals threw their famed garbage blitz at the Saints.

Bill Nelsen, the ex-Southern California star beginning his fifth season in pro ranks, has drawn the starting quarterback assignment for the Steelers.

Panthers Tackle Trojans In First Grid Exhibition

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Two Southern League rivals, the Shreveport Trojans and the Twin City Panthers, test their football skills here tonight in an exhibition game at State Fair Stadium.

Game time is 8 p.m.

The game will be the first of the season for the Panthers of Monroe - West Monroe.

EUGENE HUGHES
. . . Ace Panther Back

The Trojans lost a 23-20 contest with the Sherman Dennison, Tex., of the Texas League recently. The Texas team finished second in its league and was the top defensive club of the circuit.

The Panthers, organized last year, played a three game schedule after a late start and wound up with a 3-0 record.

The Cecil Pirkey coached Panthers open regular season play Sept. 16 in New Roads and play the Past Point Steelers of Pascagoula, Miss., in their first home game Sept. 23.

Charley Stevenson, the ex McNeese great, will quarterback the Panthers with Charles Shackleford, who also played semipro ball in Washington, D.C., guiding the Trojans.

Fullback Eugene Hughes, former Grambling star, tailback Mickey Strothers of Tech and splitback Jackie Harris round out the starting Panther backfield.

Running back Louis Flanagan of Grambling, fullback Jerry Wilaims of Arkansas AM&N and former Villanova player Bryan Levinsky complete the Trojan offensive backfield.

Charles Washington, the Grambling standout drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers two years ago, is pegged as a defensive starter, but will likely see some offensive action with the Bob Simmons - coached Trojans.

Other Trojan starters will include Nathamal Reed and Terry Summerlin, ends; John Bilberry and Bob Burton, who played for Boston and Houston, tackles; Earl Harris and Larry Courtney, guards and Gerald Swift, center.

The Panther line will be made up of ends Tommy Gist and Floyd Stanley, tackles Ken Burgess and Joe Scoby, guards Roy Ludwig and Pat Anderson and center Bob Malone.

Newport Doubles Match Longest In Net History

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Dick Leach of Arcadia, Calif., and Dick Dell of Bethesda, Md., defeated Tommy Mozur of Sweetwater, Tenn., and Lenny Schloss of Baltimore, Md., 3-6, 49-47, 22-20 Friday in the longest match in U.S. lawn tennis history.

The players began their marathon encounter in the second round of the 86th Newport Casino tournament Thursday afternoon. The match was called because of darkness with the score 35-all.

Leach, 27-year-old captain of the U.S. Junior Davis Cup team, and Dell, 20-year-old University of Michigan junior, needed nearly three more hours to pull out the victory over Mozur and Schloss, University of Tennessee teammates. The elapsed time was 6 hours, 10 minutes.

"Never again," Dell said. "My legs aren't too sore, but I'm exhausted. I think it's mainly a mental thing. We just tried to scrape together some points today.

"We had tried everything, so we just had to wait and get lucky. I don't want to every try it again."

The marathon match was nothing new for Mozur and Schloss. They won their first round match at Southampton last week 6-4, 48-46. Then they lost to Mexico's Joaquin Loyo Mayo and Marcello Laro in the finals 6-3, 6-4, 21-19.

"These marathons are becoming a habit, but they're sure a lot of fun," Mozur said. "The only thing that isn't fun is losing."

In singles, topseeded Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, was forced to default to Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash., in the quarter-finals. Graebner has been confined to bed for two days with a virus.

Archer's Jubilee, NFAA Tourney Set Sunday

The fifth annual Archer's Jubilee, seasonal feature of Tupawek Bowmen, and the National Field Archery Association's first Money Mail Tournament will be shot Sunday at Tupawek's range on Johnson road near Drew community out of West Monroe.

The Archer's Jubilee, rained out in May and rescheduled, had a pre - registration entry of nearly 100 shooters at the Wednesday deadline, but late entries will be accepted on the range tournament morning from 6:30 until 8:15 o'clock.

Drew Nelms, Tupawek president, said trophies will be awarded first, second and third place winners in all NFAA classes according to the number of shooters. If there's only two shooters in a class, there will be only one award; three - to-four entries qualifies two awards; five or more shooters in a class will mean the full three trophies.

It's a 56 - target shoot with 28 targets to be shot over the woodland range off Arkansas road during the morning, beginning at 8:30. The last half will be shot in the afternoon.

Nelms also announced Tupawek Bowmen, who own a 160 acre lease, will have a broad head range available for practicing bowhunters this year. A new 14 - target field range is also planned for construction this winter.

U.S. To Have Best Shot At Olympic Tickets, Rooms

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Visitors to the 1968 Olympic Games will be able to see the best in amateur sports for as little as 24 cents a ticket, the Olympic Organizing Commitee said Friday.

Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, president of the committee, said ticket prices will range from 24 cents to $24. They are theoretically on sale to foreigners now but Mexican residents won't be able to buy them until next August.

Ramirez Vazquez said the admission prices were authorized by the Federal District (Mexico City) government and approved by the committee. He said the 24-cent bleacher seats and the most humble to see part of the games.

The $24 tickets will be for reserved, front row seats at such popular events as track and swimming.

No one will actually be able to pick up tickets until they go on sale to Mexicans next summer. This is being done in an effort to cut the possibilities of counterfeiting, cut the number of returned tickets and make sure all the foreign tourists who want tickets will be able to get them.

As soon as a visitor gets confirmation of his hotel room from the lodging control office he receives authorization to buy tickets to as many events as he desires. The tickets are to be waiting for him when he arrives in Mexico City.

Ramon Alatorre, head of the lodging office, said a percentage of all the variously-priced tickets have been set aside for tourists.

No tourist can buy tickets unless he has a confirmed hotel reservation or made housing arrangements. Nor can he get a hotel room reserved during the games unless he agrees to buy at least one Olympic ticket a day during his stay.

All requests for hotel reservations and tickets from abroad are channeled to Alatorre's office. It's his job to guarantee that any person receiving confirmation of his reservation, and paying the required room deposits, has a room during the games.

The United States, because of its proximity, gets 20 per cent of the tickets and hotel space — the largest percentage given to any counry.

Altorre, meanwhile, said his office has acquired 4,500 beds in private homes for the use of part of the 85,000 Olympic visitors he expects in Mexico City Oct. 12-27 of next year.

Altorre said Mexico City will have about 45,000 hotel beds available. At a glance it appears about 40,000 people are going to have to sleep in the streets. But Alatorre says he is convinced not all 85,000 will be here at the same time.

Figures from past Games show the average Olympic tourist only stays from three to five days, he said.

The average price of a double room in a luxury hotel in Mexico City is $14. Good quality hotels, which don't fit the luxury category, in this city of almost 7,000,000 average $10 for a double.

Saints' Mascot Named Gumbo

The New Orleans Saints mascot, a registered Saint Bernard pup, has a name. "Gumbo" has been selected from approximately 3,000 contest entries received by the mascot's sponsor, the Louisiana Restaurant Association. The name was first submitted by Mr. Phillip A. Wetzel Sr., 4326 South Carrollton Ave., New Orleans.

J. B. Delero, secretary of the Louisiana Restaurant Association, explains that "Gumbo" was the overwhelming preference of the Association because of its obvious reference to the famed New Orleans dish.

"We were looking for a short, easy - to - remember name for the Saint Bernard, one that is significant to New Orleans and Louisiana, and, of course, to the restaurant industry," Delerno said.

Wetzel, who receives two Saints season tickets for his winning entry, said when he first saw the pup's picture and read of the Restaurant Association's search for a name, "Gumbo" just seemed "a natural".

So, now that the pup has a name, all that remains is his formal presentation to the Saints. Gumbo will arrive from the Hiligehof Kennels, Morrison, Colo., on Sunday, Sept. 10. He will be formally presented to the Saints, and introduced to New Orleans, at a press party on Wednesday, Sept. 13, and will make his debut in Tulane Stadium for the Saints 1967 regular season opener against the Los Angeles Rams on Sunday, Sept. 17.

After Rehearsal Dinner Fetes Suzanne Messina, Danny Allen

After the rehearsal of their wedding vows last evening at Jesus the Good Shepherd Church, Miss Suzanne Messina and her fiance, Danny Allen, were complimented with a dinner. Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Allen of West Monroe, hosted the courtesy for their son and his bride-of-today.

The private dining room of the Holiday Inn was scene of the buffet dinner. A bridal motif prevailed in all the decorations. The honoree's chosen colors for her wedding, yellow and white, were featured in the summer flowers centering the dinner table. Bride and groom figurines were used with the flowers to enhance the setting. Glowing tapers cast a soft glow over the party area.

Miss Messina was wearing a pink A-line linen trousseau model with white accessories.

Guests for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Messina, the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Heck, Miss Cindy Messina, Michael Dispenza, Miss Linda Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ditta, Miss Venniece Ditta, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonner, Miss Cathy Bonner, the Reverend Fathers Dave P. Hurricane lamps illuminated the party area, and noted at vantage points were colorful spring flowers. A tangerine cloth covered the buffet table, with a gold container filled with lemon yellow pompons forming the decorative centerpiece.

The bride-elect was wearing white tapered pants with a floral voile overblouse. Mrs. Anthony Messina, the honoree's mother, was attired in a yellow sports ensemble, while Mrs. Wilkinson was wearing a yellow skimmer with matching accessories.

A white linen cloth covered the table highlighted by an arrangement of yellow pompons and white stock. Place cards decorated with miniature wedding bells appointed places for those attending the courtesy.

Miss Eldred was wearing a green and yellow chiffon tent. The hostess gifts were a white carnation corsage to complement her trousseau model and crystal in her chosen pattern.

Joining the honoree and hostesses were Mrs. Eldred, Mrs. A. D. Smith Jr. of New Orleans, the prospective bridgroom's mother, Mrs. George Speir, Mrs. David Speir, Mrs. J. W. Glenn, Mrs. Marion Causey of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Mrs. James Wiley, Miss Jimmye Carolyn Wiley and Mrs. J. N. Walker.

BANANA ICE CREAM

If you want to make just one quart of ice cream in the top of your freezer, try some of these.

- ¼ cup margarine, room temperature
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 eggs at room temperature
- ½ cup mashed bananas, (about 1 large one)
- ½ cup ice water
- ½ cup instant non-fat dry milk crystals
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Using an electric mixer, cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat at high speed for 5 minutes, and then blend in mashed banana. Mix water, instant crystals and vanilla in bowl; whip until soft peaks form, which should take about 5 minutes. Add lemon juice and continue whipping until stiff peaks form 3 to 4 minutes longer. Fold whipped crystals into banana mixture. Turn into ice cube trays and freeze.

WHITE RICE

A teaspoon of lemon juice boiled with rice will make it whiter.

Dear Abby

Ask Father To Hose Down This Dirty Son

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My two [illegible] have the same father and mother, but they are as different as night and day. The girl is 17 and she is clean as gold. The boy is nearly 15 and he is dirty as a pig. He takes a bath in a pail of water for [illegible] and goes to bed with a [illegible].

I put out clean underwear for him and I find it where I left it. He puts his dirty underwear back on.

Now, Abby, a mother can't groom a boy who stands 6 feet and weighs 180 pounds.

What can I do? [illegible] His father [illegible]

OLD [illegible]

DEAR OLD: Where is his father? If he's [illegible] to hose [illegible] just keep after him and [illegible] that real men [illegible]. When HE [illegible] he'll get next to himself.

DEAR ABBY: I represent a large insurance company. During the last [illegible] years all the agents and their wives have taken turns entertaining the group in their homes for dinner parties, cookouts, Christmas parties, etc.

There is one couple who has accepted the hospitality of all the others, yet have never had the group in their home for any kind of party. They have talked about having a party, but it never materialized.

[illegible] they just be excluded from our parties in the future?

PHOENIX

DEAR PHOENIX: I agree it's bad manners to accept [illegible] without returning it, but if this couple continues to be invited in spite of their failure to reciprocate, the group must enjoy their company. Whom one invites to his home is a personal matter. If YOU do not want this couple, don't invite them.

DEAR ABBY: My mother said that when I was a child I had too much love and I became spoiled.

I have read that psychiatrists say that a parent can't give a child too much love.

What do you think?

SPOILED

DEAR SPOILED: I think your mother should first clarify her definition of "love" as she understands it. It is my opinion that one can become "spoiled" from an excess of material things, but not from love.

DEAR ABBY: Whether this is true or not I cannot say, but it has a message [illegible].

Several worldly [illegible] teen-agers were chiding one of their group because of her virginal status. She took it good-naturedly for a while, then quietly silenced them with this remark: "Should I ever become dissatisfied with my status, I can change. How about you?"

NO NAME PLS.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints From Heloise

Sun Visor Ideal Spot To Keep Identification

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Recently I was talking with a friend of mine whose mother had [illegible] for years to put her name, address and who to notify in case of an accident on the back of her car's sun visor. My friend just couldn't understand it.

You know, I think this is one of the greatest ideas that has come along since our effort to land a man on the moon. Here's why:

We all carry identification of various sorts, but let's be sure we carry the name, address and phone number of the person to notify in case of an accident. If we have an accident and are out [illegible], the first thing any policeman or ambulance driver does is look for someone to notify. We don't always carry [illegible] when we take the children to school, etc.

Many of us move or change phone numbers and forget these important cards.

Putting a current information card on top of the sun visor is an excellent idea.

I suggest that you not only type the name of your next of kin (remember they just might be with you), but also one of your neighbors. They usually know who our parents are, the name of our nearest kin, who [illegible] the same city and even some of out-of-town relatives.

So why not pick up a pen right now, write this information down on a little piece of paper and stick it in your purse. The next time you're in your car you can tape, clip or pin it on the sun visor. It takes little effort on your part and may save much confusion and heartache in an emergency.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

New mothers on a limited budget who need wash cloths for baby [illegible] cut one of their husband's old [illegible] shirts into squares as large as desired. Then put a rolled hem or a zigzag stitch around the edges so they will hold their shape.

These are not only soft for a baby's tender skin, but are easier to handle than a terry wash cloth.

You can also use the entire front or back section of these shirts for little towels. They are an ideal size for small babies and later they are just right for [illegible] after [illegible] those little hands.

Mrs. [illegible]

Dear Heloise:

We made a slot in the garage door for the newsboy to shove our daily paper through when it rains as we do not have a covered porch.

Also when we are away we don't have to bother our neighbors to pick up the papers for us. We always like to have all the papers delivered and enjoy reading the back issues when we get home.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

A. M. Dennany

Dear Heloise:

To save the ribbon bows from my showers and wedding gifts, I cut two pieces of nylon net in the shape of a heart. Sewed these together leaving a small opening in the top, then gathered a narrow ruffle around the edge. I put those pretty bows inside the heart and stitched the opening together.

I have a beautiful throw pillow for my bed as well as saving those treasured bows.

Mr. Editor... Tell Me, Please

If you have a question you want answered, write or call "Mr. Editor, Tell Me, Please" at the Morning World and News Star. We'll be glad to get the information and pass it on to you each Saturday in this column.

Could you tell me who owns the West Monroe golf course? When was it acquired and for how much? How much revenue is derived from it and who gets this revenue?

The West Monroe golf course is privately owned by the Highland Park Country Club. It is open to members of the country club and their guests.

● ● ●

Is there a state-supported boarding school for cerebral palsy children in the Monroe area? If so, how do I get in touch with them?

The local CP School is part of the parish system, but is not a boarding school. The youngsters go to school each day, but live in their respective homes. There is no boarding school as such that we know of.

● ● ●

In the television series "Search for Tomorrow," who plays Joanne Tate?

We are told that the actress' real name if Mary Stuart. She has been with the series since its beginning about 17 years ago.

● ● ●

What is "sanseveria"?

We assume you are referring to "sansevieria", an indoor plant. It is a foliage plant with stiff, erect leaves. The plant also goes by the name of "Snake plant."

● ● ●

Could you send me addresses where I could obtain information on the following subjects: obtaining government assistance for migrants to Australia; obtaining jobs in Australia, particularly in the educational system; and steps necessary to be come an Australian citizen?

The best source of official information is the Australian Consulate, 636 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y., 10020. However, in getting this information we were told: The government will assist in the passage cost to Australia, if the person agrees to stay two years. Should he return before that time, the money must be refunded. The person should not count on getting this money until several months after arrival in Australia since the forms must be filled out on arrival. It then takes three to four weeks for this to be processed and the money sent. In referrence to the educational field, our source urged that persons not get their hopes too high, since the government apparently prefers those teachers educated in the Australian colleges and universities. Their educational system is not the same as ours. Also, the Ministry of Education assigns the teachers where they are needed and without "connections" the applicant may be assigned to a portion of the continent where he, or she, does not wish to settle. All this must be taken into consideration, the source stressed. However, for the official information, the Consulate can supply.

● ● ●

Under what law am I required to sign a form asking that my children be assigned to a particular school?

The applicable authority is a federal court order handed down by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeal and issued locally on April 6, 1967, stemming from the Civil Rights Act.

● ● ●

If I do not sign the "option form" can the school board keep my children from attending the school of my choice?

The superintendents explain that every child that attends any school of a system under the court order (or his parents or guardians), must complete such a form before he can be enrolled. If no preference in schools is listed, the child will be assigned to the school nearest him with space available in his proper grade.

● ● ●

How many seats are open on the Ouachita Parish School Board in 1968 and from what wards?

A total of six seats will be up for election next summer—one from Ward 1, one from Ward 2, two from Ward 3 and two from Ward 5.

● ● ●

Where does one apply for a job as parking attendant or ticket taker for the new civic center arena?

Such applications for employment should be rendered at the general office in the civic center conference hall between Tuesday and Thursday. Needed are ticket takers, gate personnel, concession personnel, ushers and usherettes, though parking probably will be directed by the local police department. Efforts are being made to hire mostly high school and college students on a part- time basis. However, such students must be in the upper 50 per cent academically of their classes due to the potential drain on study time. The jobs must not interfere with the students' main occupation—getting an education, officials report.

● ● ●

How many tons of air conditioning are involved in the new civic center arena and what will be the cost per hour for all utilities?

There are 800 tons of air conditioning involved, but center officials declare that it will be impossible "even to guess" the per-hour cost of operation until approximately the end of the first year's operation. There are "too many variables," they say.

● ● ●

When will be City of Monroe audit for the year ending April, 1967, be available to the public?

City Hall spokesmen could not answer the question, since the audit in question is currently in progress. The figures will be available "whenever it is finished." Annual audits of city business normally are completed in "late fall."

● ● ●

Does the City of Monroe ever foreclose on property owners who do not pay their paving or sewerage liens? How long are they given?

Yes, the city does foreclose, though officials say it is not usually done extensively. The city is "as lenient as it can be," they say, but the bonds must be paid off and the property in question is pledged to back up bond certificates. Actually, the city can demand payment in full of the amount due if a single payment is not met on schedule.

Coast Areas Ask Security From Floods

WASHINGTON (AP) — Delegations from coastal areas of Louisiana and Texas periodically ravaged by hurricanes asked Congress Friday to set up a government-backed program of flood insurance.

Such insurance is virtually impossible to obtain now in these areas, witnesses told a House Banking subcommittee.

Headed by Reps. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and John Young D-Tex., the delegations were from St. Bernard Parish and New Orleans, in Louisiana, and from Calhoun County, Tex.

Pending are bills to set up a flood insurance programs in which the federal government and private insurance companies would cooperate.

The government would pay part of the high premiums for such insurance and assume part of the risk and losses.

Spokesmen for the Louisiana group were Sheriff John F. Rowley of St. Bernard Parish and Elmer Tapper, legal adviser for Flood, Inc., an organization which has as one of its objectives the establishment of a national flood insurance program.

From Calhoun County were County Judge Howard G. Hartzog, County Commissioner R. W. Sanders and John J. Faubian, Port Lavaca banker.

Rowley told of the vast damage his area suffered in Hurricane Betsy in 1965. He said 500 homes were destroyed and 10,000 damaged in his parish but that the average insurance payment was $400 per home, against losses of $15,000 to $20,000.

Tapper said flood insurance isn't available to the area but most residents would buy if it were.

Biggest Tanker Gets Christened

BREMEN, Germany (UPI)— The 171,000-ton Esso Mercia, the biggest tanker to go down a European slipway, was launched Friday at the Krupp-owned A. G. Wester Yard.

The ship was christened by Mrs. Siro Vasquez, wife of a vice president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, which placed the $16.25 million order.

The Esso Mercia, 1,013.7 feet long and 135 feet wide, will be equipped with a single turbine engine, giving it a speed of almost 18 knots.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 8-19

Document Shows Cong Only Interested In Win

SAIGON (AP) — A captured Viet Cong document made public by the U.S. Mission Friday says in effect the guerrilla leaders intend to talk about a Vietnam settlement only after they've won.

Some of the reasoning behind the Communists' rejection of American peace overtures was set forth in a 60-page resolution adopted 16 months ago by the Central Office for South Vietnam, the Viet Cong's top political and military echelon.

"Only when the American imperialists' aggressive will is crushed and the objectives of independence, peace, democracy and neutrality of the South are guaranteed can we negotiate a settlement of the Vietnam problem," the resolution said.

Though they haven't been emphasizing it in propaganda broadcasts recently, both Ho Chi Minh's Hanoi regime and the Viet Cong have vowed to fight on for 10 or 20 years if necessary.

The war stems in part from differences about how much "independence, peace, democracy and neutrality" South Veitnam would have if the Communists took over. In a statement accompanying an English-language translation, the U.S. Mission said: "The document dates from March 1966, but the goals, methods, tactics and attitudes enunciated in the COSVN resolution are still valid and are those being currently used by the Vietnamese Communists.

"COSVN is not only under Hanoi's direction and control, but, as the document points out, is an integral part of the Lao Dong (North Vietnamese Communist) party's interlocking machinery."

The mission said the hookup was further illustrated by the presence in South Vietnam of a least eight North Vietnamese generals who are full or alternate members of the North Vietnamese party. Troopers of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division were reported to have seized the document last April 21 in coastal Khan Hoa Province, 200 miles northeast of Saigon. It was officially described as one of the most significant to fall into American hands in Vietnam

"At a certain time," the document said, "we can apply the strategy of fighting and negotiating at the same time in order to support our armed struggle, and thus accelerate the disintegration of the puppet South Vietnamese army and regime, and create more conditions favorable for our people to secure a decisive victory.

"We are determined to not to entertain any illusions concerning a negotiated settlement to the problem of Vietnam, and we must concentrate all our strength to destroy the enemy.

"Although the enemy brought our entire country into a status of war by raiding North Vietnam and although he has created some problems, including material and human losses, he has not been able to cause us any fear."

The document called for an expanded war effort by both guerrillas and Red regulars. Among the aims it set forth was "to continue to render U.S. forces more passive and bogged down, and thus crush the American imperialists."

"To accomplish the above missions," it said, "it is necessary to meet the four following demands:

"Wear down and destroy much of the enemy's power, especially the American and puppet (South Vietnamese) regular forces.

"Maintain and expand the liberated zones in the major portion of the highlands and the delta, emphasize production, thrift and improvement of the people's strength, actively establish firm bases and step-by-step improvements and consolidation of those bases.

Dr. Peter J. Steincrohn

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I had a chest x ray last week and today I received the report. "The heart is at the upper limits of normal in size, otherwise, essentially normal chest."

I am 73 years of age and I would like to know what this means to an old codger like myself. For some time I have had slight pains in my chest now and then. — Mrs. W.

Comment: Upper limits of normal means just that: your heart is normal in size according to the standards set for your measurements. However if it were a little larger it would fall into the classification of being a slightly enlarged heart. (When a heart is larger than normal it is presumed to be a diseased heart — or at least a malfunctioning heart.)

Otherwise, essentially normal chest" means that your lungs are clear. There is no evidence of infection, growths, fluid, or any other abnormality.

Now, as for the pains you are getting in your chest. I'd have to know more about the actual condition of your circulation to make a guess about that. An occasional fleeting chest pain may not be due to any trouble in the heart at all.

However, if the pains you get are of a daily occurrence; if they are directly related to exertion such as walking (especially directly after eating, or after an argument) your doctor would have to consider the possibility of angina pectoris.

At 73, with a normal-sized heart and apparently indefinite slight pains, my guess is that you are far from being the "old codger" you say you are.

OVER EMOTIONAL

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I need your help badly and I do not want to go to my doctor, as I am an over-emotional person. I would have butterflies in my stomach and tears in my eyes, before I could tell him my trouble. This is what I have been up against all my life. I would like to be able to face up to my troubles like most people.

I belong to a church group and if I am asked to stand up and say something I manage to say a couple of words but the rest will not come out. Also, if I am told something sad, the tears come into my eyes.

I feel like kicking myself. This is what I am up against. The tears always win. So you see why I'd appreciate any help you can give me. — Mrs. M.

Comment: Doctors see and advise emotional people every day of their working lives. One way or another, doctors' offices are charged with emotion. Fear, hope, anger, bitterness, faith, hope, resentment, courage, cowardice — these are only a few of the mixed emotions which are a part of the patients who come for help.

Confronted with such problems, it is inevitable that the doctor must become a student of human nature. He does not sit in judgment of his patients; he sits down with them and tries to help.

I tell you this, Mrs. M., because I think you make a serious mistake in not taking your own doctor into your confidence.

Are you ashamed that he may see you cry? What better place for such emotional outlet than your own doctor's office?

Everybody knows the beneficial, therapeutic effects of a good cry. Take my word for it that your own doctor can give you much more help than I can. All you need to do is resolve to see him and be prepared to tell him your troubles. There are many others like you who will benefit from such emotional catharsis.

Dr. Steincrohn is sorry he cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Area Farmer Announces For Board

COLUMBIA (Special) — John Wesley Crump, Ward 1 farmer has announced as a candidate for the office of School Board Member from Ward 1 in a special election to be held at the same time as the Nov. 4 Democratic primary.

The Ward 1 seat has been vacant since early this year when W. A. Fisher, resigned shortly before his death.

Crump made the following statement:

"This is to announce my candidacy for the School Board post in Ward One.

"I am thirty three years of age and I am married to the former Jennie Reynolds. My wife and I have two children, Wes, age four and Anna Leslie, age two and a half. I manage and operate Synope Plantation. I am a member of the Columbia Methodist Church and a board member of the Farm Bureau. I was born in Shreveport and lived in Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma during my childhood. I was graduated from Neville High School, Monroe, La. in 1952 and received my Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemical Engineering from Louisiana Tech in 1956. Following my graduation from Tech I worked in the Natural Gas industry until January of 1961 when my wife and I moved to Caldwell Parish.

"My reasons for entering this race for the school board are numerous, but primarily it is because of my belief that the education of the children in Caldwell Parish is our most important responsibility as parents. In this rapidly changing world a good sound education is an economic necessity. Todays children, those who are entering college in ever increasing numbers and those who are starting their careers out of High School must have the best education obtainable in order to meet and conquer the keen competition of our society.

"Since I have two young children who will soon enter the Caldwell Parish school system you can be assured that I will strive to keep our local school system as strong as ever and to assist the educators, of our children, to obtain the latest and most modern teaching aids available. It is with this thought in mind that I announce my candidacy and solicit your support."

Harrelson To Seek Juror Post In Area

COLUMBIA (Special) — David M. Harrelson has announced as a candidate for police juror of Ward Four of Caldwell Parish, which consist of about half of Caldwell's 4,500 voters.

His statement to the voters follows:

"I would like to take this opportunity to announce that I will be a candidate for Police Juror of Ward 4 in the November election.

"I am 37 years of age, was born and reared in Caldwell Parish, and served 2 years with the U. S. Army during the Korean conflict. I am married to the former Polly Wyles and we are parents of two children, Deborah, an 8th grade student at Caldwell Parish High School, and David, a 3rd grader at Grayson Elementary.

"I am an independent candidate for this position and am not backed by any political individual or faction.

"If elected, I will work with any group or individual for the improvement of our parish. I will treat individuals of all races with respect and try to supply their needs and still maintain the ward's sound financial condition. I will focus special attention to roads and bridges in the ward and try to improve their drainage, and prolong the life of our blacktop roads as I have seen some of our new blacktop roads being washed away by heavy rains, which is indeed a loss to our parish. Special attention will also be given to school bus routes and roads where there is heavy traffic.

"I feel there is much to be done in this ward and I would consider it a privilege to serve the people of Ward 4 as Police Juror.

"I earnestly solicit the vote and support of every voter of Ward 4."

Mobutu Sees Rapid Mercenary Defeat

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — President Joseph D. Mobutu predicted a rapid victory over the mercenaries, return of European residents to the Congo and a swift currency stabilization in an interview Friday.

Mobutu told the Congolese Press Agency that, contrary to "foreign propaganda," the national Congolese army had won victories over the mercenaries last month at Kindu and Kisangani.

"It will be the same at Bukavu in the coming days," he said. "The Congolese people ought to be proud of their army because it has never failed and it will never fail in its duties."

Speaking of the large number of Europeans—mostly Belgian—who have fled, he said: "In 15 days at the most they'll be back with their families, more happy and smiling than ever."

After the storm, he went on, the Belgians will realize that the present regime, unlike past governments, has helped them.

Regarding the Organization of African Unity summit conference, set now for Sept. 11 at Kinshasa, he predicted excellent attendance. He said he never doubted African solidarity.

Mobutu said the Congo will see a lower cost of living and a stable economy by Dec. 31, 1968, when a monetary unit called the zaire completely replaces the Congolese franc.

Two ultimatums had raised apprehension in the capital.

Col. Jean Schramm, the Belgian planter who commands 200 white mercenaries and about 1,000 dissident Katangans occupying the eastern city of Bukavu, declared he would take action if the government did not confer with him Sunday on "the future of the Congo."

Although Schramm has indicated he may move south to Katanga, the copper-bearing province once headed by Moise Tshombe, his means of enforcing the ultimatum remain speculative.

Mobutu, backed by his Popular Revolutionary Movement, replied with his own deadline: If Schramm's mercenaries haven't left the Congo by Aug. 24, he will eject them.

The African summit conference will be preceded by a foreign ministers' meeting to open Sept. 4, according to Congolese Press Agency reports from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, the OAU headquarters.

But diplomatic sources predicted that, unless security is tight, attendance will not approach the near-perfect record among the 41 delegates invited to Addis Ababa last year.

Monday a mob sacked the Belgian embassy.

Militarily, the president has moved to block a possible rebel advance to Katanga. Short-range Ethiopian fighter planes, with Ethiopian and Ghanian crews, are ready along any route to the south. Congolese troops airlifted to Burundi are presumably in position to battle any advancing force. A report in the newspaper Le Progres said 43 volunteers from Mali are to join Mobutu's forces.

Possible government moves to place jets in Ruanda, just across the border from Bukavu, appear to have stalled after threats via the rebel-held radio. Rwanda depends in part on Bakavu for its electric power.

The Congo has built a cluster of luxurious buildings specially for the conference. Nearly all Kinshasa hotel rooms have been reserved by the government from Aug. 15 to Sept. 30.

Delegate will deal with some 20 problems such as the Arab-Israeli crisis, decolonization and political and administration matters.

AEC Conducts Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — A low-yield nuclear test was conducted underground Friday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

The Blast, the 18th weapons-related U.S. test to be announced this year, had a force of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Viet Candidates Approve Extending Race

SAIGON (AP) — A proposal by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., that South Vietnam's presidential election campaign be extended a month, drew approval Friday from many of the 10 civilian candidates.

None moved formally to ask that the Sept. 3 election be postponed, but lawyer Truong Dinh Dzu, one of the more outspoken men in the race, said he would suggest it on his next television appearance.

Javits said in a speech Thursday the election had been "gravely compromised" by charges that the military ticket of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu and Air Vice Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky was campaigning unfairly. He said the extension of the campaign period could restore full confidence.

Most of the civilian candidates boycotted the campaign for 10 days this month to back up their charges, which have been denied by both Thieu, the chief of state, and Ky, the premier. It was not until last Wednesday that they got together for their first stump-speaking appearance in the provinces.

The provisional assembly, which drafted the election laws, would have to act if the election date were to be moved back. Such legislation would be subject to approval by the national directorate, which is headed by Thieu.

The directorate can veto assembly actions. Two-thirds of the assembly could repass legislation over a veto, but has failed to do so on all previous similar occasions. In addition, the assembly has generally lacked a quorum since the campaign officially opened Aug. 3. Many assemblymen are running for president or the senate, which will be elected the same day, or are campaigning for the candidates.

In view of all this, political analysts feel it is highly unlikely that the election will not take place as scheduled two weeks from Sunday.

The civilians spoke before a crowd of about 1,800 Friday in Gia Dinh, capital of the province of the same name that surrounds Saigon.

Thieu appeared at a ceremony in Phan Rang, 175 miles northeast of Saigon. Ky traveled to Da Nang, 380 miles north east of Saigon, and addressed 2,000 transportation union workers.

Gia Dinh, with 560,000 registered voters, is the most densely populated province in South Vietnam.

About Javits' proposal, candidate Vu Hong Khanh said: "I am in favor of it, but we must talk among the tickets about it to decide if we will ask for a postponement."

Former Premier Tran Van Huong, considered the leading civilian contender, said: "Most of the tickets want to postpone the election. They think it would be an excellent idea."

He warned, however: "If we postpone it too long, people might lose interest."

Vice presidential candidate Phan Quang Dan was against putting off the election. He said a longer campaign period would do no good. If any candidates are not already known by the people "they are not worthy to win,' 'he added.

Dan's ticket is headed by the assembly chairman, Phan Khac Suu.

Thieu and Ky have not appeared at any of the rallies set up for all the candidates in various locations. The civilians have made four trips, all without the chief of state or the premier.

The other candidates refer to Thieu and Ky as "supercandidates" because they are campaigning separately. Though they themselves are operating with government money, speaking on government broadcasting stations and flying in government planes, they accuse Thieu and Ky of using government facilities unfairly to get around the country.

The government's commission for administration, which is running the election, announced that national registration figures had increased to 5.85 million. This was an increase of about 391,000 over the number of registered voters announced last month.

The official explanation was that "government authorities had been instructed that the compilation of voters' lists should be accurate throughout the country and based on the latest reports by family chiefs."

"Voters, apparently more conscious of their citizen rights in the coming Sept. 3 election than in previous elections, came to check their names and lodge complaints that they had been left off the lists in great numbers."

Red Guards Celebrate Anniversary Of Creation

TOKYO (AP) — Red Guards had their day Friday in Peking and other Red Chinese cities. Radio Peking said they are "wresting back all political power usurped by China's Khrushchev"—President Liu Shao-chi.

It was just a year ago that Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung loosed the teen-age Red Guards as the spearhead of a purge designed to unseat Liu and all his backers. But Liu's supporters still fight on.

On this first anniversary, huge Red Guard rallies were staged in Peking and such other cities as Wuhan, the industrial complex in central China, Harbin in Manchuria, and Tsinan, capital of the eastern province of Shantung, Radio Peking said.

The broadcast did not say whether Mao attended the rally.

The youngsters were blessed by Mao at their first rally a year ago, and the Red Guards embarked on a rampage that disrupted work in factories, farms and on railways.

With the economy suffering, Mao tried to put the Red Guards under wraps and they were ordered back to their classes. But much of the turmoil spreading through China still is blamed on them.

Said a New China News Agency story broadcast by Peking: "The Red Guards are wresting back all political power usurped by China's Khrushchev in order to keep their socialist country secure in the hands of the proletariat for generations to come."

From two sources hostile to Mao, Moscow Radio and Nationalist China, came reports of new fighting, this time in the west.

Nationalist Chinese intelligence sources in Taipei reported Mao's foes were winning a battle of tanks and artillery in Chungking, China's wartime capital in the western province of Szechwan.

Mart Ends Down Week With A Slight Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Friday ended a losing week with a slight gain, just another of the narrow movements it has been making from day to day. Trading was fairly active.

Volume was 8.26 million shares.

It was the final session of a series of nine, shortened to four hours from the usual 5½ so that brokerage offices could catch up with a huge backlog of paper work. The major exchanges return to full sessions on Monday.

The Dow Jones industrial average, up more than three points in the morning, trimmed this to a small gain of 10.81 at 19.04.

Analysts said that economic news has continued to show steady improvements, with the latest figures on housing starts especially encouraging. In addition there is abundant cash in customers' accounts ready to be committed to the stock market.

On the other hand, Wall Street seems to be hesitating because of some large uncertainties: the size and timing of the proposed tax increase; the possibility of an auto strike in September; and the unkhown reverberations from the scheduled election in South Vietnam. For intermediate term investors, fearful of a good-sized correction of market prices, these loom large.

Of 1,458 issues traded, 613 rose and 579 fell. New highs for the year totaled 68 and new lows 14.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .3 to 337.3 with industrials up .5, rails off .6 and utilities off .6.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks advanced and six declined.

Allis-Chalmers was the most active stock, off 7¼ at 35½ on 301,500 shares as directors of the company refused a second and higher bid from Ling-Temco-Vought to take over the company.

Allis-Chalmers was delayed in opening due to an influx of sell orders. It opened on a block of 75,000 shares at 38. Selling pressure mounted later in the session and trading had to be halted temporarily. The stock reopened at the closing bell on a block of 80,000 shares at its final price.

Ling-Temco-Vought was under less pressure. It was eighth most active on 63,000 shares, losing 1½ at 137. The acquisition-minded growth company was written up prominently in a financial newspaper (Wall Street Journal).

News that Bethlehem had raised base prices on hot rolled steel plates by $4 a ton—the first rise in nearly four years—had only a slightly bullish effect on steel stocks. Bethlehem rose ⅜, U.S. Steel ¼, Jones & Laughlin ⅝ and Repubpic Steel ¾ .

Great Western Financial, up ⅜ at 16⅝, was boosted into the spot of second most active stock by a series of big blocks—49,000 shares, 37,000 and 10,000.

Larger gainers among other actively traded stocks included Carter-Wallace, up 1⅜, Niagara Mohawk Power, up 1⅛, and McDonnell Douglas 1.

Dampening the advance, International Nickel lost 2⅝, Kennecott 1⅛, Phelps Dodge 1, Consolidated Food 1, U.S. Smelting 1½, Merck 1¼ and Xerox 1.

IBM rose 5½, du Pont 2¼, Eastman Kodak 1, Allied Chemical 1 Goodyear 1¾ and Raytheon 1⅛.

The New York Stock Exchange index rose 8 cents to $52.59.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .15 to 94.78.

After the close, the New York Stock Exchange announced that the short interest in the month ended Aug. 15 had risen 601,071 shares to 16,454,981.

The total represents the number of shares borrowed and sold short with the hope that the seller can return the loan stock with shares bought in the future at a lower price, thus making a profit.

To the extent that it represents a future buying cushion under the market, a igher short interest is regarded as a bullish technical sign.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were a shade higher on balance. Volume was 3.6 million shares.

The A.S.E. index rose 3 cents to $21.22. Siboney was active and up ¼ at 1⅞. Millmaster Onyx, up 6¼ at 18¼, announced a new durable press treatment for cotton fabrics. National Video lost 1.

Corporate bonds were irregularly lower. U.S. Treasury bonds showed little change.

Futures Up On Chicago Trade Board

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans and grain futures prices advanced on the Chicago Board of Trade Friday, influenced by a possible government decision to stockpile grain.

The stockpiling is in the talking stage in Congress. Both houses of Congress will be considering several bills that would create a grain reserve. Wheat, corn and soybeans would be stockpiled by the government under the proposals.

The stockpiling possibility was before the trade on the opening and all prices were higher with the exception of the nearby soybeans. Later, however, all futures advanced, with soybeans moving ahead more than a cent a bushell along with wheat and rye.

Oats also moved ahead with corn. The corn advance was not as great however.

Trade in soybean oil and soybean meal was only moderate and prices closed on the easy side.

In the steer market, good active buying by commercial interests and commission houses set the pace for higher prices.

At the close, wheat was 1⅞ to 2⅜ cents a bushel higher, September 1.50 to 50⅛; corn was ½ to ¾ higher, September 1.21⅜ to ¼; oats were unchanged to ⅝ higher, September 71 cents; rye was ¼ to 1 cent higher, September 1.18¾; and soybeans were 1¼ to 2 cents higher, August 2.79⅛-½.

The committee issued a call for primaries for the special election Thursday, and candidates will have until 5 p.m. Thursday to qualify with either H. Austin Miller Sr., chairman, at 311 Lakeside Dr., or committee member Diehlmann C. Bernhardt at his office, 707 Bernhardt Building.

Republican Qualifies In House Race

Monroe businessman Ralph Caldwell qualified Friday as a Republican candidate for one of the three state representative seats from Ouachita Parish.

As of late Friday, Caldwell was the only candidate to qualify for the representative post with the Ouachita Parish Republican Executive Committee.

Unless three or more other Republicans qualify, Caldwell will be certified as a nominee and not be required to vie in the Nov. 4 party primaries and will be on the general election ballot, Feb. 6, 1968.

Unlike primaries, in the February general election Ouachita Parish voters, regardless of party registration, will be able to vote for the candidates of their choice. Voters will name three representatives from the parish. The third parish seat was added as a result of the recent reapportionment action of the Louisiana Legislature.

W. G. Haynes Jr., Ouachita Parish GOP chairman, said Friday "at least 20" Republicans — a record number — have entered various local races throughout the Fifth Congressional District. These include about six Republicans who are running for state representative seats, he added.

He pointed out that the general strategy of the state Republican Party this year is expected to be to concentrate on contesting for local offices over the state. So far, only one Republican has announced his intention to run for a statewide office. He is Allison Kolb, Baton Rouge, former state auditor, who will be running for state treasurer.

Hudgins Named Faculty Member

Lt. William Hudgins has been named a member of the faculty of the Artillery School at Fort Sill, Okla. He was an honor graduate of his Officer Candidate School class there in June. He has served in Germany and the Dominican Republic.

Hudgins was a 1961 graduate of West Monroe High School here in the Twin Cities.

Long, Passman Hit Tax Plans

Letters from Sen. Russell Long and Rep. Otto E. Passman have been received by the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce in reply to chamber letters concerning President Lyndon Johnson's tax increases proposal.

Sen. Long said, "I have been able to see no economic case for a tax increase. What we should do is cut non - defense spending, such as foreign aid and the poverty program."

Disapproval of the tax increase was also expressed by Rep. Passman in his letter.

The board of directors of the West Monroe chamber officially opposed the 10 per cent surtax measure August 10.

New President Of Group Named

Mrs. Betty Wilson has been elected president of the newly organized Mothers' Club of the Ouachita Chapter of the Order of DeMolay.

Other officers elected at the club's August meeting were Mrs. Jo Ann Gulett, vice president; Mrs. Sybil Fuller, secretary; Mrs. Dot Nolen, treasurer and Mrs. Etta Tillman, chaplin.

Utilities Office To Be Occupied

The Monroe Utilities commercial department will occupy its new downtown office at St. John and Grammont this weekend, according to department manager Mike Tarver.

Tarver and his staff of some 30 workers in the commission's commercial operation will "entirely complete" the move from 241 S. Grand over the weekend.

A formal open house and dedication will be held as soon as final fittings — draperies, minor equipment, etc. — are received and installed, officials explained.

Tarver stressed, for public convenience, the change which has been made in the office's telephone number. The new number is 387-2755, he disclosed, adding a "strong urging" that residents copy the number and keep it handy for use.

"The new number will not be in the phone directory until the next directory comes out and much confusion can be avoided if our new number is kept written down somewhere at home," the manager emphasized.

The weekend relocation officially will end the leasing of space in the Penn Hotel — termed an economy measure — plus provide more and better-arranged work space. Old quarters offered 5,700-square-feet, while the new building — constructed at a cost of some $125,000 — provides 7,700.

The building's space is expected to be adequate for 12 to 15 years of normal growth, with room for further growth "out and back." The site, former location of the parish health unit, includes a parking lot for 21 customer cars, plus street parking on two sides of the building.

Carmichael Due In Hanoi, Brown Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Stokley Carmichael of the Student Non violent Coordinating Committee "will arrive today in Hanoi," SNCC Chairman H. Rap Brown announced Friday

Brown made the announcement at a crowded news conference at the Church Center for the United Nations, managed by the Methodist Church, opposite U.N. headquarters.

The statement said the area is "America's testing ground for how it will try to crush wars of national liberation around the world, including the one developing in this country."

"For, in Mr. Carmichael's own words," it continued, 'We see that what happens in Vietnam affects our own struggle, and what we do affects the struggle of the Vietnamese people.'

"At the present time our people are a colonized people within the United States," it added.

Brown also called on "all black people" to celebrate Friday, the second anniversary of the beginning of the riots in Watts, and to "pay homage to the heroes and heroines of Watts."

For the past several weeks, Carmichael has been in Havana, Cuba, where he attended a conference of the Organization of Latin American Solidarity and called for Negro guerrilla warfare in the United States.

Brown said that despite the Declaration of Independence of July 4, 1776, "Our own struggle for independence" did not begin at that date.

"We remained slaves until Aug. 18, 1965," he said in another statement. "That day marks the day the blacks of Watts picked up guns to fight for their freedom. The Watts insurrection signalled the end of begging, crying, marching and dying.

"If we had to die, we realized that we should die in the act of killing and taking that which was ours.';

"For, in Mr. Carmichael's own words," it continued, " 'We see that what happens in Vietnam affects our own struggle, and what we do affects the struggle of the Vietnamese people.'

Cattleman, Wife Burned In Explosion

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A gasoline fire-explosion Friday seriously burned a cattleman and his wife, leveled their home and barn, and blinded some of their cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil B. Womack were taken to a Baton Rouge hospital after fire 200 yards from their home apparently resulted in an explosion on their premises.

Charles Johnson, 32, of Greensburg, who was operating a road grader on the Joor Road, north of Baton Rouge, said there was a burst of flames when the blade of the grader hit a gasoline line.

"I was blown completely off the grader," he said. "I landed about ten feet away on my feet, and managed to keep running."

Johnson added, "I looked back over my shoulder and saw the Womack house covered with smoke. I took a couple steps, and looked back again and the house was flattened with one big explosion."

Johnson escaped injury.

Newsmen who arrived on the scene found only the chimney standing upright. Cattle owned by the Womacks were singed and some of them had their eyes burned out.

A son, Virgil B. Womack Jr., who arrived after the family disaster, said they had been engaged in raising fine cattle. He was in shock.
